Final action on an ordinance that would have blocked the Manley Avenue entrance to the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, formerly known as the Schnuck's-Carps development, was averted by a majority of Granite City Council members Monday night pending a further study of the proposal.

By a roll call vote of 9 against 4 in favor, the council rejected a motion to suspend the rules to place the ordinance on final passage. A two-thirds council vote, a minimum of 10 in favor, is necessary to suspend the rules.

Immediate action on the ordinance was forced by Alderman Edward Daves of the Seventh Ward and Alderman Claude Green of the Fourth Ward, although City Attorney George Filcoff told the council he did not prepare the ordinance that appeared during the session, and that he hadn't known about it until a copy was "slipped under my (office) door" Monday afternoon.

The ordinance presented during Monday night's council session by Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the Ordinance Committee who said he found the ordinance on his desk with other city documents when he arrived at the meeting, would repeal another ordinance passed in February 1972 in which the city agreed to vacate a part of Manley Avenue and part of an adjacent alley to permit an access to the site of the shopping center development.

The bill set out that the 1972 ordinance "was approved pursuant to an agreement that G-F Investment Co. would maintain that portion of Manley Avenue and the alley in Block Three of Richmond Place Addition adjacent to the properties of Joseph Hassler and Henry Ross."

It charged further that "G-F Investment Co. has wholly failed and refused to maintain said vacated properties" and that Hassler and Ross "have now requested that Ordinance 2846 (the vacating bill) be repealed in order that they might not be deprived of the access to which they are properly entitled."

Adoption of the measure would have the effect of returning the vacated portion of Manley Avenue and the adjacent alley to the city, and depriving the shopping center developer of the Manley Avenue access to the shopping center which will house a Schnuck's food market and other stores.

After the ordinance was read, Poulos, at Daves' request, moved for a suspension of the rules to place the ordinance on final passage. The motion was given a second by Green.

At this point Alderman Clyde Boyd asked if the repeal action would return to the city all of the property vacated early in 1972 to permit construction of the shopping center and an adjacent K-Mart store. Vacating actions at that time also involved parts of Amos and Kummerman avenues.

Boyd was informed the action proposed Monday night would restore to the city only the Manley Avenue and alley section.

Filcoff asked Daves why he thought it wise for the city to take back the responsibility of maintaining the street and easements when the city, as an alternative, could force the Crossroads developers to comply with maintenance requirements of the agreement under which the street vacation was approved.

Daves said that Don Golden of the Golden Investment Co. of Kansas City, Mo., developer of the project, "hasn't done anything he said he would do."

Alderman Walter Nonn of the Fifth Ward urged action on the ordinance, remarking, "Golden didn't come in for a permit for his holding (drainage) pond and hasn't cooperated with the city on a single thing."

Filcoff suggested that because he had not had an opportunity to study the ordinance that the council defer final action Monday night and permit him time to check into the issues. Daves said, however, that he believed there should be action immediately.

Poulos said that because of the objections to the ordinance, he would withdraw his motion for a suspension of rules and move that the bill be placed on first reading instead. This would give a two-weeks delay before council action since the council does not meet again until Dec. 17.

Green refused to withdraw his second of the original motion for a rules suspension, forcing the issue to a vote.

On the roll call, Daves, Green, Nonn and Alderman Steve Basarich voted in favor of the rules suspension. Those voting against were Aldermen Boyd, Sam Whitmer, Gerald Parmley, R. E. Robertson, Poulos, Everett Morien, Frank Greenwald, Earl Baker and Ronald Coleman. Alderman William Dallas was absent.

Poulos then moved to place the ordinance on first reading. That motion was approved.

Building Inspector Robert Kelly told the council that if the city takes back the street easements, "we would have considerable fill to make in some excavated areas."

He said that he and Monroe Brewer, city engineer, have been checking into the problems at the Crossroads center and that Brewer "is talking about bringing suit against both Golden and Ross because of problems there."

The G-F Investment Co. referred to by the ordinance is the financing arm of the shopping center development, formed by Golden and Jack Fingers, a partner, after original plans for development of the center by a group known as SCR (Schnuck's-Carps-Ross) were abandoned.

Ross originally was among planners of the development known as Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, as well as the K-Mart store on adjoining property. Ross, however, developed the K-Mart store which opened its doors last week, but is not now involved in construction of the Crossroads center.

The city has been critical of the Crossroads developers because of drainage problems. The city a few months ago accused the developer's contractor, G. H. Sternberg Contracting Co. of tying into a city storm water line and of failure to meet requirements for building a drainage holding pond.

The Crossroads center has two other points along Nameoki Road by which traffic could reach the center, but both could cause severe congestion. Consequently, an elimination of the Manley Avenue entrance would be a critical blow to the future of the development, Sternberg said.

Johnson site for fire hall

A tract of land at the northwest corner of Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road—on which Granite City will build a new firehouse—was purchased by the Granite City Council Monday night.

The city bought the land through Granite City Realty Co. for $12,000 on a recommendation by Alderman Everett Morien, chairman of the council's city buildings committee, who said the offer was the lowest of several proposals.

Planning for the structure will begin immediately. Mayor Paul Schuler said he expects construction work to get under way by early spring.

Purchase of the land and construction of the new fire station, which will replace the present station at Nameoki Road and Amos Avenue, will be financed with federal revenue sharing funds.

The city already has appropriated $100,000 for construction. Since $20,000 had been appropriated for land acquisition, Monday night's transaction will give the city a savings of $8,000 in the budget for land and would permit transfer of this amount to the construction fund, according to City Treasurer Paul Rutledge.

Fire Chief Don Parente said he is awaiting delivery of working plans for a fire station that was built in Huntington, W. Va. Parente said the Huntington station was selected from a book of designs of fire stations throughout the country as the one most likely to fit Granite City's needs.

He said he obtained permission of city officials at Huntington for release of the plans by the architects who designed that building. This also is expected to result in a savings in architect fees if the plans are found adaptable here.

The site has a 135-foot frontage on Richmond Avenue and a similar frontage on Johnson Road, Parente said. While it has not been finally determined how the station would be situated, it is almost certain that fire trucks would come out of the station onto Johnson Road, he said.

Heavy traffic on Nameoki Road frequently causes delay in getting fire trucks from the present firehouse onto Nameoki Road, a condition that is expected to worsen with time. As a result, city officials scheduled construction of a new fire station as one of the earliest priority when federal revenue sharing funds became available.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward has spearheaded a move to build such a new fire station and a new police station with revenue sharing monies, maintaining that such allocations are intended to benefit all of the people in the city, rather than be used for ward improvements.

Democrats back Cruse, Briggs, Lucco, Chapman

Von Dee Cruse, Granite City Township assessor, was endorsed last night as the Democratic organization candidate for county clerk as the Madison County Democratic Central Committee approved its slate of candidates for next year's March 19 primary.

The committee also endorsed James Chapman of Collinsville, former Madison County recorder of deeds, for state central committee of the 23rd district.

New treatment costs cause concern; defended by U.S.

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

A hard-line stand on paying for secondary sewage treatment in Granite City was taken by Edwin C. Horn, chief of the program support section of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, during a meeting with city officials and industrial representatives yesterday in the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce offices.

"There are no safety valves. Once the plant is built, you're married to it and you're going to live with it," Horn told those present.

"Industries which think they can go elsewhere to reduce the cost of treatment are wrong. This is U.S. law, and it is going to be enforced throughout the U.S.," he added.

He said the $8 million secondary sewage treatment plant now under construction "theoretically can get rid of (pollutants) as cheaply as it can be done." He added, "That's what it costs for treatment. It's always cheaper to discharge smoke into the air—or to throw your garbage on your neighbor's lawn."

Responding to a statement by Roger A. Higgins, plant manager of the Nestle Co. facility here, that under the proposed rates his plant's sewage treatment bill would rise from $13,000 per year to about $20,000 per year, Horn responded, "That's what it costs for treatment."

He said industries predicting vast increases in their bills should evaluate what portion of the total sewage treatment cost they are now paying.

Horn said that industries will pay the same treatment cost per gallon as the residential and business customers pay per gallon, with the exception that residential users will have to pay the additional cost of preparing thousands of bills each billing period while the industries will have to pay the cost of maintaining equipment to measure the flow of untreated waste from the plants.

"The cost of treatment will be the same for every customer but other costs may vary," he said.

He added that the billing will be re-evaluated each year to correct any inequalities in the system. "This may be an inducement to industries to clean up their own discharges," he said.

Although the city will operate and maintain the plant, a federal audit may be expected at any time to assure there are "no free rides and no quantity discounts."

"Any savings from industrial users for quantity must be distributed to all user classes," he said.

The "no free rides" clause also pertains to governmental facilities, he explained. The policy will cancel a former agreement between the city and the U.S. Army Installation in which the installation provides the ground for the treatment plant in return for free sewage treatment from Army facilities in the site, including housing units.

The city already had been negotiating with the Army to end the free provision.

While residential fees will be used to pay for the operation of the new plant, other costs will be paid from the industrial fees, Horn said.

Of every $1 an industry pays, 30 cents will go directly to the government to help pay off the 30-year interest-free loan on the facility.

Of the remaining 50 cents, 40 cents must be used for costs, including an interest-drawing fund for expansion and reconstruction of the facility. The city may do what it sees fit with the remaining 10 cents.

"Most cities now are using the remaining money to provide relief for the industrial use cost, since the money came from the industries," the EPA official repeated.

"We need good industrial management. The EPA is charged with distributing a lot of federal money and we sure aren't going to waste any. We want this plant to become a facility which should generate revenue in addition to its cost, like a public utility."

"We're going to get every penny of benefit out of these federal grants and we hope to do it in five, six or seven years. Then the federal government will be out of the sewage treatment business."

"The government is in this business and does not want to be in this business long," he said.

Horn also touched on the proposed four-township collector sewer program to serve the Quad-City area. "We are in the secondary sewage treatment business now and are not in the collector sewer business because we just do not have the money."

Venice school voting Friday

Voters of Venice School District 3 will ballot tomorrow in two precinct polling places on the east side of the city.

The district's financial problem results from consistent year-to-year reductions in its property valuations which now total $32,671,321, compared with $39,391,390 ten years ago.

The present $2.05 rate will produce only $444,931 in tax revenue during the current year on the basis of the 1972 valuation. Expenditures for the current year are projected at $864,921, including an actual commitment of $808,000 in salaries.

In addition, the district owes $200,000 in tax anticipation warrants which must be paid out of the first taxes received from 1974 collections. As a result, all sources of educational fund income, including those from state and federal sources, will give the district only $566,931 to apply against the $864,921 expenses.

A referendum vote last June 30 on a proposition to increase the rate by $1.20 for a total of $3.25 per $100 assessed valuation was defeated overwhelmingly in a tight vote.

Voters will cast ballots tomorrow between noon and 7 p.m. All school district residents living within the city boundaries of Venice will ballot at the Park Recreation Center at 3rd and Broadway.

Those living in the district outside the city of Venice will vote at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building at 100 Hill St.

Scoville also announced appointment of the finance committee which includes Ebersold, Charles Meyers of East St. Louis, and Russell Robinson of Granite City.

The trustees are to begin preparation of the 1974 levee district budget later this month. The budget usually is approved in the January meeting, with a tax levy adopted in February.

The levee district's fiscal year is the same as the calendar year.

Scoville leads board

Jack Scoville, National City, who elected president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees at a meeting in the East St. Louis offices of the district Wednesday morning.

Scoville replaces Ronel Wilson, East St. Louis, as head of the five-man board that administers district operations. Wilson served as president during the current fiscal year which ends Dec. 31.

Wilson nominated Scoville for the president's post. William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, seconded the nomination and Scoville's election was by unanimous vote.

Mrs. Helen Christich of Granite City who has been serving as secretary to Ebersold was appointed chief clerk of the district by Scoville.

She succeeds Blanche Fields of East St. Louis in the chief clerk post. Mrs. Fields will become chief deputy clerk, replacing Dorothy Jean Thomas of East St. Louis.

James Spanos, acting chief engineer for the past two years, was appointed chief engineer, and George Thomas, mayor of Brooklyn, was appointed levee district treasurer. Thomas succeeds Eugene Clark, city clerk of Brooklyn.

County buying easements for Maryville Rd.

Acquisition of right-of-way for the county's portion of the Maryville Road improvement has been started by the County Board Right-of-Way committee. It was reported this week by William Webb, Granite City board member and chairman of the committee.

Webb said committee members have begun conferences with property owners in an effort to "get the project off the ground."

The proposal calls for extension of Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Highway 162 as a joint county-Granite City project with the city providing approximately $200,000 of the $2 million cost.

The city, however, does not have the money available for the project at this time but is making efforts to determine some plan of financing. The city's cost of right-of-way has been estimated at $30,000 to $50,000.

Wilbon tells board of indictment

Ronald Wilbon of East St. Louis, whose term as president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District ends this month, told a meeting of the levee board trustees yesterday that he believes he has been indicted by the St. Clair County grand jury for allegedly approving payments to two attorneys without official board approval.

Wilbon, who held a news conference following the board meeting in which Jack Scoville of National City was elected president, said he was informed the indictment results from payments for legal work by two attorneys and a plumbing bill for the firm of former mayor Alvin G. Fields without the bills being approved by other board members.

Wilbon declined to say whether or not he intends to resign if he is indicted. He still has three years of a four-year term remaining.

South athletes honored at Fall Sports Banquet

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Page 4 Thurs., Dec. 6, 1973

Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City High School
South honored its cross-country, soccer and football athletes
Monday evening during its annual Fall Athletic Banquet before an audience of more than 100 fans.

Guest speaker Ray Sonnenberg, an Illinois High School Association official, Missouri Valley Conference basketball official and a head linesman of the National Football League, told the Warrior athletes and audience "Success, can only be determined by a team's or individual's determination, discipline and sportsmanship."

"I'll tell you a story. A young man lettered in football as his 'sometime' school star quarterback. He went on to college where he sat on the bench almost every game, and soon was cut from the squad because they said he wasn't good enough."

"He transferred to a small college where football was barely recognized. There he led the grid team to its first winning season and consecutive winning ones after that. Upon graduation he was drafted by a major football team on the East coast, and again was cut from the team. They told him he wouldn't work out in the club."

"Disgusted, this young man turned to playing Sunday sandlot football with local organizations in Maryland. An acquaintance called the head coach of the Baltimore Colts and asked him to come out the next Sunday and take a look at one of the best quarterbacks he had ever seen in action."

"Johnny Unitas led the Colts to victory after victory and set all kinds of NFL records in the process, the official related."

Sonnenberg, looking at the Warrior players, said "So the message is success is measured by not only if you win, but also on how well you rise again after facing failure."

Cross-Country Coach Dick Harmon praised each of his runners for their individual efforts throughout the 1973 season. He then handed school letters to juniors Dwayne Terry, Jim Hall, Jim Caschetta, Sam Nesbitt and Greg Allers. Two sophomores, Frank Holmes and Don Meagher were awarded letters as were two freshmen, Randy Presswood and Mike Cothern. Harmon presented special awards to Randy Presswood, as the outstanding cross-country freshman athlete, freshman Holmes and Meagher as the most outstanding sophomores and told the story of the harrier voted the most outstanding runner before announcing his name.

"This athlete achieved several individual feats this fall. He finished fourth in the Alton district meet on Oct. 25.

Gene Baker, head mentor of the soccer Warriors, said this year's squad is a team which brought pride and respect to the school."

"These young men performed to the best of their abilities, played with good sportsmanship, and brought back a third place win in the state finals at Normal."

"I am probably one of the happiest coaches in the state, just because I've had the pleasure of knowing these lads," he said.

"The player selected for the most improved player award, excelled last year with the state finished second in the Illinois sectional at Springfield, and represented this school at the Illinois state meet at Peoria, where he finished 102nd."

"Dwayne Terry has broken individual school and course records, and should be a real dandy as a senior next year," Harmon said as he presented the award.

Squad's cheerleading club presented the Miss School Spirit Award to Paula Schuler. Diane Holmes was the recipient of a school letter as a second year cheerleader.

Sixteen seniors, eight juniors, two sophomores and three student trainers of the football Warriors were honored during the ceremony.

Seniors presented letter awards were Dave Lindsay, John Serlich, Larry Haddix, Steve Kraus, John Avedisian, Tim Killian, Charles Farratto, Mike Moran, Mike Stanton, Doug Griffith, Dave Ruebhausen, Walter Milton, Dave Dombek, Dale Williams, and Keith and Kevin Hollis.

Letting as juniors were Dave Wilson, Mike Lansaw, Kirk Champion, Greg Terrell, Paul Mushill, Tom Schooley, Ray Smith, and Bryan Wilson. Doug Hartman and Bryan Bunjan were the only sophomores to letter.

Charles Parmley, Keith Fears and Bill Burch were presented letters by the head grid coach, Wayne Williams, for their performances as student trainers.

Of the 26 players who lettered this year, eight had recently been named to the Southwestern Conference all-league team by area coaches.

championship squad, but I feel he has improved more as a senior this year—Ted Geggus," Baker announced.

"The best offensive player chosen has been an outstanding athlete in every sport he has participated in. He has been instrumental in helping our team to victories with a total of 27 goals—Mike Martinez," he added.

Coach Baker also cited Keith Gehling as the best defensive player. Holding the most valuable player award in his hand he said, "A college coach called me on the telephone and asked about this soccer star. I told him he is small, not real fast, but is probably one, if not the best, soccer player Illinois has ever seen."

"He led the team with the most individual goals, 28, and was chosen along with Gehling to the Illinois All-State team during the state finals at Normal."

"It's my extreme pleasure to present this award to Don Goldschmidt."

Jr. high cagers face full cards

The four local junior high cage squads entered their second week of competition Tuesday, Madison at Collinsville North, Coolidge at Roxana and Grigsby at Prather.

Collinsville's Mick Farland scored 12 points in leading his teammates to victory over the seventh grade cagers of the Madison Spartans. James Heard of Madison topped his team's scoring with five points.

In the next round the eighth grade Spartans rallied on a 17 point scoring streak by Andy Ellis to defeat the host squad 49-23.

The Coolidge Braves lost both of their games at Roxana. The seventh graders by a score of 22-16 and the eighth grade squad 29-28.

The higher grade level team was down 20-12 at halftime and battled back to within one point on the hot hand of Terry Angle who picked up 15 points in the game.

Both grade levels squads of the Grigsby Gators posted a winning night over the Chiefs of Prather. The seventh graders downed the Chiefs 30-14, and a last second field goal by Harry Murphy, who totaled 19 points, gave Grigsby a close 36-33 win over the eighth grade Prather squad.

Grigsby will host Roxana today and Coolidge will meet Collinsville-Webster at Coolidge today. Prather travels across town to meet Madison this afternoon. All games begin at 4:15 p.m.

8 area colleges vie in 8 sports

Classic pairings, such as the SUE-St. Louis U. soccer clash at 2 p.m. Sunday at Busch Stadium, are likely to be plentiful in future seasons due to formation of the St. Louis Area College Athletic Association.

The eight schools joining are SUE, McKendree College at Lebanon, Concordia Seminary, Harris Teachers College, St. Louis U., Missouri Baptist College, Washington University and University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Chuck Smith, athletic director of UMSL, is the group's first chairman. Representing the athletic directors, Smith explained, "We have two purposes in starting this group. The first is to promote intercollegiate athletic competition among four-year colleges and universities in the St. Louis area. Secondly, we hope to encourage athletic excellence within the framework of each institution's program and philosophy of athletics."

Since the scope of intercollegiate teams varies for the members of SLACAA, the athletic directors will act as a committee to determine the structure for competition. Smith said that at least three schools must participate in individual sports at member institutions, competition in some sports will be divided into two divisions (I and II).

Competition will begin this winter in both swimming and basketball (two divisions). This spring, SLACAA champions will be determined in tennis, baseball (two divisions) and golf (two divisions).

Next fall, competition will begin in cross country and soccer (two divisions), while a SLACAA wrestling championship will be determined for the first time in the 1974-75 season. Championships in golf, swimming and tennis will be determined this year in one-day tournaments.

McKendree is in Division I in basketball with SUE and UMSL. In Division 2 are Concordia, Missouri Baptist and Harris. In soccer, there will be one division with a round robin schedule. Smith explained that the teams may play in other divisions but only division games will be counted toward the association championships. The association will not be a conference, but will be superimposed in the scheduling.

The new association has been years in the making and was suggested by sportswriters who would prefer to write about area schools playing area schools. They said all would get more publicity, and there could be a higher grade of local competition.

In addition, such pairings may help reduce fuel usage during the energy crisis, as more near-to-home games and fewer long trips are scheduled.

Long Cougar road schedule

The first of ten straight games on the road for the SUE basketball team resulted in a 117-71 defeat at the hands of powerhouse Purdue. The Cougars will take part in the four-team University of Missouri-St. Louis tournament at the Rivermen's gym.

The Cougars will not make their home court debut until Jan. 9 against the Quincy College Hawks. Purdue's height and experience seemed to overawe the young Cougars, but it was really the leech-like shooting of the SUE players which did it. In Dudley's Dandies, since they actually outshot the Cougars makers, 94 to 89. The Cougars shot a dismal .329 from the floor.

while Purdue's sharpshooters were hitting at a sensational .561 clip.

Early scoring performances by Purdue pair of All-American candidates, 6-11 center John Garrett and 6-7 forward Frank Kendrick, left little doubt as to the game's outcome, although the Cougars did enjoy a 2-0 lead on a perfectly executed driving layup basket by SUE's only senior, 6-5 Leon Wright.

Kendrick and Garrett tied for game scoring honors with 20 points each. SUE's junior guard, gangling Keith McFarland of Troy, Ill., hit for 19 points to pace the Cougars. Next high for SUE was Alton's Don Koppenhaver, with 15. Doug Young, making his debut as a Cougar, hit for 13 points and Wright ended up with 11.

One bright note for the SUE cage future: The Cougars JV's 6-4 freshman Mike Bartels, hitting 15 of 25 shots in a 40-71 loss to the Purdue yearlings, looked sharp.

MHS trims McKinley in overtime, Venice next opponent

The Trojan cagers of Madison High School will clash head-on with the Venice Red Devils at 4 p.m. tomorrow on Madison's home court.

Madison, now 4-2, will be playing its seventh game of the new season and Venice, with a 1-0 record, its second. Trojan mentor Larry Graham told the Press-Record, "We think we can play with them and be competitive. Venice only beat us by 18 points last year and by six the year before."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Thurs., Dec. 6, 1973

"They undoubtedly have a tough team again this year, but we have an edge on them in game experience."

The Madison cagers gained in the winning column Tuesday by defeating McKinley 83-80 at St. Louis in a real overtime thriller.

McKinley took an 18-13 first period lead, but Madison pulled ahead, 35-32 in the second quarter.

The Trojans still held a slim three-point lead at the end of the third period of play as each team scored 23 points. McKinley made up the difference in the final period to pull ahead of Madison.

McKinley made good a one-and-one on a Trojan foul to take over the lead at 76-74 with a minute to play.

After McKinley's foul shots,

Ron Glasper took the ball down court for the Trojans, passed off to Henke who in turn gave it to Daryl Franklin for the shot. Franklin missed the basket and Carl Campbell picked up the rebound.

With just enough time left on the clock for a quick shot, Henke took the pass from Campbell and made good a quick jump shot to tie the game.

Madison downed the host team with two field goals and three free throws in the overtime period. Rudolph Bradley and Glasper each had an overtime basket. Chris Stanley made good one free throw and Henke two for the victory.

Scoring for Madison were Stanley with 21 points; Glasper with 19; Bradley 16; Campbell 13; Franklin 8; and Henke 6.

The local squad made 15 of 22 free throws while McKinley was 12 of 19. Madison Committed only 15 fouls to the host school's 18. The Trojans had 35 assists and 23 rebounds recovered while turning the ball over to the enemy just 12 times.

McKinley's Dan Rivers totaled 31 points in the game, with all but one field goal from more than 17 feet out.

Venice will enter the game fresh from a 57-38 victory over the Columbia Eagles in Venice Nov. 27. J. B. Harmon, high point man for the Red Devils in that game, again will lead the squad against Madison.

North, South ready for weekend foes

The new GCHS North Steelers cagers, with a 1-1 record, will attempt to add two games to the win column when they host the Wood River Vikings at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow and the 1-0 Pioneers of Assumption at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Warriors of GCHS South, with a 0-2 record seek their first win of the season tomorrow at Alton in an 8 p.m. game against the Redbirds.

The Steelers opened their first varsity basketball season last Friday with a 50-47 win over Springfield-Griffin, then fell victims to the Rockets of Okaville Saturday night 68-56.

North's 5-8 senior guard Don Lloyd, who scored 20 points in the Springfield game, will lead the Steelers on the court with Dave Schmitz who set a school record of 27 points Saturday at Okaville. Complementing the two will be Mike Waldo, Cary Simpson and Gene Longas.

The Oilers, who lost 79-43 at Belleville-West Saturday, will go on to the courts with their lead scorers, Mike Zaranfello and Rich Downer.

Coach Dick "Fox" Ryan of Assumption said, "With our lack of size, we're going to have to press all over the court. This will utilize our quickness to the fullest."

The Pioneers, fresh from a victory over Gibault of Waterloo, has its player sizes ranging from 5-9 Rufus Burns to 6-3 Leonard Mikolasuk. The 6-2 senior Tim Paulow is the only returning starter from last year's 14-12 record squad.

Joining the East St. Louis team on the court at GCHS North Saturday will be either Jerome Heavens, Dan DeBourge, Roddy Young, Mike Walls, Mike Austin or Dave Hyla.

The Warriors will travel to Alton at 8 p.m. tomorrow in a Southwestern Conference clash with the Redbirds. South is seeking its first win of the season after being defeated 60-40 at Madison Friday and 65-50 at the hands of the Mascoutah Indians Saturday. Alton wants its second win of the season after defeating Jacksonville 87-81 last week.

Bryan Wilkinson, cage mentor at South, said, "Alton is one of the best teams in the area and is considered to be a contender for the conference championship."

"We are going to have to stop making defensive mistakes if we want to beat the Redbirds."

Senior Letterman Mike Martinez, who scored 12 points against Madison and 17 in the Mascoutah game, will lead the attack against the host school. Joining him on the court will be Terry Hollis, Ken Bertrand, Bob Hutchings and Rick Fancher.

Alton, with three of its five starters at 6-4, will put 21 point maker Willie Huff and Maurice Williams and Doug Nalley, each with 17 points, plus Terry Green, and Jeff Copley on the court. Justin Scheiter, a 6-4 junior substitute, may see

Soccer crowns are at stake

Eight area soccer teams will meet Saturday to determine the season championships in their divisions at the regional 1973 championship soccer tournament finals.

Collinsville will meet Wood River at 10 a.m. Saturday on Steele Field 2 to determine the pee wee division championship. Collinsville and Bituminous Fuel will clash on the same field at 11:30 a.m. for the junior bantam division title; East St. Louis and St. Elizabeth will decide the senior bantam division when they meet on Steele Field 1 at 10 a.m.; and the senior midder division title will be decided on the outcome of an 11:30 a.m. contest between East St. Louis and Northtown Rentals.

Court progress cited

Circuit Judges William Beatty, John Gitchoff and Victor Mosle said last night that civil suit backlogs have been reduced from more than 30 months to less than 18 months and that the criminal caseload is being handled on a current basis to avoid dismissals on statutory time limits.

Answering questions from the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce posed at the latter's monthly meeting at Charlie's, the judges said they are willing to address public groups to review court topics.

While more prosecutors are needed, they said, much progress is being made to achieve judicial efficiency, aided by expanded Courthouse space.

President Chester L. Baker presided and named former State School Supt. George T. Wilkins Sr. to head a Community College District liaison committee.

Richard Kerch, chairman of highways, traffic and transportation, reported bidding next week on the Broadway traffic route and Madison Avenue intersections and in January on Nameki-Ehling Roads turn lights.

Democrats Eugene Briggs of Nadeki Township, the acting superintendent.

For state representative, the committee endorsed Joe Lucco, an Edwardsville school administrator, to run in place of incumbent State Rep. Leland J. Kennedy of Alton, who is not seeking re-election. Also endorsed was incumbent Rep. Horace Calvo of Granite City.

Endorsements for sheriff and county treasurer were given to incumbents John Maeras and George Musso, respectively.

The endorsement for county clerk went to Cruse despite earlier announcement by Miss Eulalia Hotz, incumbent county clerk, that she would support Miss Evelyn Bowles, Edwardsville, chief deputy county clerk. Miss Hotz will retire next year.

In the Appellate Court judicial race, the committee endorsed John Karns of Belleville and Robert Maucker of Alton.

2 new master degrees voted

New master degree programs in urban studies and mass communications at SIUE were approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education Tuesday.

The master of science degree in urban studies was approved by the SIUE Board in April 1972, and the master of science in mass communications was approved by the trustees last April.

The urban studies degree is designed to assist in meeting needs of state and area municipalities in planning and implementing solutions to complex urban problems. Enrollment the first year will be limited to 15 students. Instruction toward the degree is to begin in January.

The program is interdisciplinary and will involve the Schools of Business, Education, Science, and Technology and Social Sciences. Gilbert Rutman, professor of economics, will direct the new program.

John Regnell, chairman of the SIUE mass communication department, said the new degree program will be problem oriented rather than media oriented, with emphasis on practical experience.

Each student will complete a major project, such as the communication needs of an agency or institution, using one or more media to solve the problem. Regnell said he hopes instruction can begin in the fall quarter of 1974.

The action by the BHE increases the number of master degree programs offered at SIUE to 48.

Hagnauer, Bellcoff on Southwest Plan board

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer (Granite City Township Supervisor) and Madison City Clerk John Bellcoff (chairman of the Madison City Planning Commission) are two of those designated as 1974 executive committee members of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

Also on the executive committee are retiring President Robert Gardner of Waterloo, Monroe County highway superintendent, Leroy Marks, chairman of the Centerville Planning Commission in St. Clair County; Mrs. Ruth Gilder of Chester, a Randolph County Board Member; Freeman Keim of Waterloo, a member of the Monroe County Board; and Henry Blume of Belleville, a St. Clair County Board member.

Succeeding Gardner as president is Alfred Young, supervisor of Stoekey Township in St. Clair County.

Jack Frandsen of Alhambra, a member of the Madison County Board, is vice-president. Those re-elected are Treasurer Charles Chenoweth, chairman of the Belleville Planning Commission, and Secretary Ed Holzweg of Collinsville, a SIMAPC board member appointed by former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Venice pupils must be immunized by Jan. 19

Students in the Venice School District who have not been immunized as required by the Illinois School Code must receive the necessary shots from their personal physician at the monthly immunization clinic of St. Elizabeth Hospital, 4111 S. Main St., before Jan. 19.

Venice Superintendent John O. Pier informed school board members Monday evening that a survey by the school nurse disclosed a number of pupils in kindergarten, first and fifth grade classes have not received the mandatory immunizations against whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and measles.

Firms currently are being sent to parents of students whose school medical records are incomplete. The forms must be signed by parents and returned to school authorities prior to Jan. 19, the administrator said.

In other business, the board approved an additional expenditure of $2,126 for 24 lights to be installed in the Venice High School gymnasium under a contract awarded previously to Rite Electric Co.

The original contract called for installation of mercury vapor lights. Suplt. Pier explained. However, he said, reviewing the project with the contractor showed that a metallic halide lighting system, at a higher initial cost, is more efficient and cheaper to operate.

Several parents attended the special meeting and discussed with board members the district-wide election, set from noon to 7 p.m. Friday, in which Venice voters will be asked to approve an increase of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the educational fund.

Also at the session was Lloyd H. Patterson, who is serving as temporary mayor of Venice.

Miss Isbell will become the bride of Thomas Kriehok on Jan. 5 in Neuman Hall at the University of Illinois at Champaign, where both are students.

New treatment

"Our studies show that to meet the 1977 water requirements alone will require $60 billion. The cost for secondary treatment and collectors has been estimated at $36 billion."

He said he anticipates new grants in future years for collector sewers. Meanwhile, all excess capacity of the city's 23 million-gallons-per-day secondary sewage treatment plant will have to be paid by residential users unless some industries wish to reserve some capacity for future growth.

The city selected the treatment plant size in anticipation that the four-township sewer system use it for treatment in the near future.

Horn reassured those present that the new plant is designed for "the most efficient and effective treatment and cheapest cost you can get."

He said industries studying the possibility of building their own treatment plants to save money will find they cannot treat their wastes to meet rigid federal standards cheaper than the city plant will be able to.

Arwin H. Holman, section chief of the Construction Grants Branch of the EPA, also was present at the meeting.

Shower for Nancy Hanks

A bridal shower was given Sunday afternoon for Miss Nancy Hanks by Mrs. Lois Winter at the latter's home, 3310 Wilshire Drive.

The table centerpiece consisted of red and white flowers arranged by Mrs. Lala Hanks, mother of the honoree, in an antique brass pot and presented as a gift to the hostess.

Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Bernadene Mullin of O'Fallon, Mrs. Vickie Knobloch of Mascoutah and Mesdames Martha St. Ivany, Sharon St. Ivany, Junita Fuchs and Celeste Bason and Miss Denise St. Ivany, all of Granite City.

Miss Hanks was assisted in opening her gifts by Miss Kim St. Ivany.

Other guests attending were Mrs. Maggie Green of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Gila Hampton of Glen Carbon, Miss Susan Mullin of O'Fallon, Mrs. Carolyn Maxwell of Maplewood, Mo., and from Granite City Mesdames Mary St. Ivany, Naz St. Ivany, Joyce Bailey, Martha Bailey, Dorothy Martin and Cindy Bailey and Miss Sophia Zippel.

Mrs. Winter was assisted during the afternoon by Miss Susan Mullin and Mesdames Dorothy Martin, Vicki Knobloch, Bernadene Mullin, Gila Hampton and Martha St. Ivany, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Miss Hanks will be married on Dec. 8 to Gary St. Ivany at the SIUE Religious Center.

ROUND TABLE MEETING TUESDAY EVENING

Transportation will be the theme of the Roundtable meeting for den leaders and committee members at 7 p.m. on Tuesday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, according to Mrs. Nadene Taylor, Roundtable commissioner.

Those who attend are to bring pinewood derby cars and rocket ships for display with an exhibit on crafts relating to the theme that Pack 36 of Maryville School will present.

A special Webelo session on the engineer award will be held, Mrs. Taylor added.

Rotary 50th year event

Granite City Rotarians made plans Tuesday to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their club at a banquet March 12. President Joseph Hassler has appointed Richard Kerch and Richard West as co-chairmen of the observance, which includes a goal of 74 members.

Cooperating will be the Madison Rotary Club, which was sponsored by the Granite City club and will mark its own 50th anniversary in 1975. Frank Fijan of the Madison club attended Tuesday's luncheon discussion.

Nominations for 1974-75 officers were received and ways of aiding the Rotary Foundation were outlined by Robert Miller.

School supply contracts

An $1,800 contract for a complete plumbing system at the house on Clark Street being constructed by students in the Granite City School District's building trades program was awarded by the Board of Education Tuesday night.

The contract was awarded to Hogan Plumbing Co. of Granite City for $1,800. The Hogan firm submitted an identical bid with one from George Grove Plumbing and Heating Inc., but the award was made because a higher grade of copper tubing was offered by Hogan Plumbing for under the concrete base slab.

Five companies were selected to supply lumber and plywood to the district for maintenance purposes. The contracts, totaling $6,462, were awarded to: O'Neil Lumber Co. at $1,283; Duffin Brothers Lumber $120; Boise Cascade Corp. $4,076; L. J. Ross, Inc. $366; and Maryville Lumber $368.

Draper Shade & Screen Co. and St. Louis Shade & Hardware were chosen for replacement shades and rollers at nine schools with the former company winning a $1,387 contract and the latter a $319 contract, a total of $1,706.

Schools to be serviced are: Emerson, Marshall, Mitchell and Nameoki elementary schools; Grigsby and Prather junior high schools and Granite City High School South.

A $1,100 bill from Audio Electronics Co. of Wood River for emergency repairs to the public address system at the GCHS South football field was ordered paid. Vandalism and thefts necessitated the emergency repairs, the board was told.

Contracts for electrical supplies were awarded to four companies at a total of $553. Contracts went to Illinois Electric $150, Garret Electric Co. $102, Barlett Electric Co. $97, and Grubbs Electric Co. $54.

The board ordered emergency printing of six sets of reserve tickets for the GCHS-South gymnasium for Daly Ticket Co., which has supplied the tickets in the past. The total cost is $363. Members agreed the printing order should be bid next year but due to a shortage of time this year, they agreed to the request to order without bidding.

Industrial education equipment contracts were awarded to four of six bidders. Contracts totaling $284 were awarded to: Langenketter $57, E. J. Lawrence $134, Broadhead Garrett $45, and Service Blue Print $29.

Granite City Termite & Pest Control Co. was selected from five bidders for pest control in the district on the basis of low bid, to specifically treat the company's bid was $100 which includes free inspections for five years.

The board selected Sireator Industrial Supply, Streator, Ill., to supply incandescent lamps and fluorescent tubes for school lighting. City Lighting Products for ballasts and projection lamps and Verd-A-Ray Corp. for fluorescent starters and mercury vapor lamps.

A contract with Sidener Supply Co. was approved, leasing additional property behind the school district's warehouse to the company at $35 per month. The company presently pays $76.50 per month for the ground now leased and the new contract will be in addition to the payments under the old contract.

Bailey and Himes Co. of Champaign was reinstated as a bidder on athletic equipment. The company was removed from the bid list two years ago.

Joseph Fedora, director of athletics, was granted permission, if necessary, for the emergency purchase of 40 basketball uniforms for North freshman cagers at a cost of $420. Fedora said he was going to try a switch of some uniforms with Prather Junior High School to get enough to fit without ordering new ones, but the emergency purchase may be necessary if the attempt is unsuccessful.

AUTO THEFT ARREST

Security police at SIUE said Tuesday they have signed a warrant for Darryl Thomas, 18, East St. Louis, charging theft in connection with the disappearance of an auto from the SIUE campus Nov. 26. He was arrested by East St. Louis police in a 1983 car which Debbie Gering of Edwardsville had reported missing from a parking lot. Bond was set at $3,000.

GC matmen prepare to improve season records

The matmen of GCHS South and North enter their second weekend of wrestling competition tomorrow and Saturday beginning as the Warriors of South, now 2-0, attempt to extend their winning streak to 47 consecutive victories when they meet Edwardsville tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., and then travel to Bloomington at 1 p.m. Saturday for double-dual matches with the host school and Decatur Eisenhower.

The North Steelers, with a 1-1 record, will host a round robin meet with Edwardsville and Wood River at 1 p.m. Saturday. South mat coach William Schmitt says, "Edwardsville lost only two members through graduation, so we don't anticipate too much trouble there."

The head mentor stated that the school expected to give the Warriors a good battle in Bloomington. "They are a well loaded team," comments Schmitt. "Bloomington has a couple of state place winners back, and one especially, Mark Jordine at 112, will have to be handled with care."

Jordine placed fourth in the state meet earlier this year and captured first place this summer in the Illinois Wrestling Federation state championship tourney.

"Probably the most evenly matched contest will be with Decatur," Schmitt speculates, "because they were a very young team last year and have only eight boys returning." South lost only one match last weekend enroute to defeating Jacksonville 56-0 and Normal 56-3 during a double dual meet here.

Coach Walt Whitaker of GCHS North, expects his Steelers to have close matchups with both Edwardsville and Wood River Saturday.

"Both schools have an unusual number of seniors back this year," says Whitaker. "Edwardsville has always been a very respectable squad and Wood River consistently has boys who advance to district and sectional meets.

3 ice hockey matches set

The Granite City team of the McClair Ice Hockey League moved into second place Tuesday with Assumption of East St. Louis after defeating Collinsville 5-1 during the weekend at the Wilson Park rink.

The local team outshot the visitors on goal with 18 attempts to Collinsville seven and posted the victory on goals by Greg Bauer, Jim Hall, Bob Stupley and Bob Cox. Its record now stands at 2-1, as does Assumption's.

Assumption downed Belleville early Saturday morning at the local ice rink and Alton maintained its first place spot, 3-0 on the season, with a victory over Wood River.

Tomorrow, at Wilson Park, Belleville plays Granite City at 10:30 p.m., and Wood River meets Assumption on the ice at 11:45 p.m. Early Saturday Morning, at 1:10 a.m., Alton will clash with Collinsville.

Chiefs outpoint Braves on mats

The Chiefs of Prather Junior High School captured seven of 13 individual matches Tuesday to post a 39-36 victory over the Coolidge Braves in opening the 1973 junior high wrestling season.

Prather team members, with winning scores (pins indicated by times) were: 75 pounds — Bryan Basore 3:22; 82 — Andy McGovern 9:41; 90 — David Fitzhugh 5:45; 126 — Tom Elison 3:05; 155 — Myron Schanuel 1:40; 170 — Mark Lemp 3:13; Heavyweight — Louis Medley 3:40.

Coolidge victors by class were: 90 pound — Greg Hoese 5:35; 105 — Charles Duckworth 5:04; 112 — Dwain Page 1:55; 119 — Darrell Haste 3:21; 135 — Mike Forshee 1:00; and 144 — Norman Mangoff 1:00.

Prather will carry its 1-0 record against Jerseyville here at 4:15 p.m. today and Coolidge will host Edwardsville at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals will offer puppies, kittens and older animals for adoption each Saturday through Dec. 22 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Animal adoption center opens

A sidewalk adoption center was formally opened during the weekend by the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals outside the Grant City store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Adoption of puppies, kittens, some older dogs and cats and occasionally a more unusual type of animal can be made by the public between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. each Saturday through Dec. 22 at the shopping center location, Mrs. Judith Johnson, APA president, announced today.

Members of the Student APA Branch will conduct the weekly

Public meet on nature trail

The Education and Recreation Committee of the Madison County Board will hold a public meeting at the Court House, Edwardsville, in the Board of Supervisors room at 8:30 p.m.

Purpose of this meeting is to discuss the construction of the Madison County Nature-trail. The committee has negotiated an agreement with the Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. for a 6 1/2 mile right-of-way of variable widths, ranging from 66 feet of 225 feet, formerly the old street car line.

The trail begins at the intersection of Lake Drive and the railroad tracks in Pontoon Beach, proceeds east along Highway 162, then north on I-270, through SUE area, under Route 157, around ESIC subdivision and ending near Route 159 at Montclair Shopping Center in Edwardsville.

The nature-trail will serve a two-fold purpose. It will provide recreation for bird-watchers, bicycle riders, equestrians and nature lovers of all kinds. It also will provide a transportation route for the students of SUE who prefer to ride bicycles.

Park pre-school registration set Parents may register youngsters from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesday to attend pre-school classes, starting in January, sponsored by the Granite City Park District. Space in the new semester classes will be limited to only 15 children who reside within the park district boundaries and will reach their fourth birthday before Feb. 1.

Upon registering a child, parents are required to present proof of residency, such as a recent utility bill receipt and a copy of the child's birth certificate. Classes are conducted twice weekly at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Enrollment in the current four classes totals about 140 pre-schoolers, leaving only a limited number of spaces for new pupils, Mrs. Rosemary Lindner, teacher, reported.

Registrations will be accepted Tuesday on a first-come, first-served basis at the Wilson Park office.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kent and sons, Kenny and Jerry Lynn, Miss Connie Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Kent and son, Sean, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Deason, Mrs. Violet Nickell, Mr. and Mrs. John Teeter and Mrs. Maureen Nickell.

USED CAR STOLEN

A used car was stolen from the lot of B. E. Hohl, Inc., 1837 Madison Ave., it was reported at 2:55 p.m. Monday.

adoption clinics, the APA officer said. A nominal adoption fee will be charged to help the non-profit organization operate its humane shelter facility at the Granite City Army Installation.

Mrs. Johnson said the APA urgently is in need of blankets, newspapers, canned dog and cat food, dog houses, cages, pet toys and bedding and rugs of all types. She noted that all bedding and other washable items used at the shelter were stolen last week while being washed at a Madison laundromat.

To aid the local humane group, Milam Corp. has agreed to donate the use of a red "dumper" in which donations may be deposited by the public at any time, day or night, through the Christmas and New Year holidays.

The dumper will be chained to a light standard on the parking lot at the A & P Grocery Co. store in American Village Shopping Center on Fehling Road, Mrs. Johnson advised.

"With winter weather approaching we desperately need warm bedding and rugs to help keep the animals warm," the APA officer said. Additional information may be obtained by calling the APA's new telephone number—931-2830.

ALLIANCE PUSHED
The English pushed for an alliance between Henry VIII and the Protestant princes in Germany on Dec. 15, 1535.

Meeting cancelled
The regular December meeting of the Venice City Organization, scheduled at the McKinley bridge office Thursday night, has been cancelled due to the death of Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice. The next meeting will be held in January.

Mobile homes regulated

An ordinance establishing strict regulations as to the type of mobile homes permissible in the city—as well as installation requirements—was enacted by the Madison City Council at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

In addition to sanitation and "code" restrictions, the ordinance specifies permissible sizes of the homes themselves and the lots on which they would be located.

It provides that a mobile home must be located on a lot at least 50 feet wide and 110 feet long, and that all electrical lines must be buried at least 18 inches or suspended at least 10 feet above ground.

All plumbing services and plumbing must be in strict conformity to the plumbing code of the State of Illinois and must comply with the minimum ho using standards of the city's regulations contained in the basic housing code.

The ordinance also states that the minimum standards for mobile homes in the code promulgated by the American National Standards Institute, will be the official standard for mobile homes in the city.

Mobile homes must be placed on a pad constructed of Portland cement concrete not less than six inches in thickness. In addition, all mobile home pads shall be at least ten feet wide by forty feet in length.

Mobile homes may be placed on concrete piers on a solid concrete footing and shall be of a size and kind approved by the building inspector. Expandable units must be provided with approved piers or their equivalent at each corner of the unit.

If a mobile home is to be installed at a location which is not within a reasonable distance from public sewage lines or facilities, then the mobile home shall be equipped with and connected to a septic tank disposal system which must comply with state public health codes.

Each violation of the new ordinance will constitute a civil offense and a fine of $500 may be imposed on each count. Each day the violation continues will constitute a separate and additional violation.

GC school board adopts substitute pay scales

In line with new working agreements between the Granite City Board of Education and Local 98 of Building Service Employees, the school board Tuesday night adopted new pay rates for substitute custodians and secretaries.

The hourly rate for substitute secretaries was raised from $1.75 to $2 while the hourly rate for custodians to $3.68 after 90 days service in a fiscal year was dropped.

The new rate schedule reduces the hourly rate for teacher aides from $2.50 to $2. The new pay for substitutes was made retroactive to Monday, the beginning of the pay period.

The school board reversed its decision of the last meeting and agreed to allow competition within each school for collection of food for Salvation Army Christmas baskets. Board members indicated they wished only to discourage competition between schools for honors and have all giving on a voluntary basis.

The Wild Card Survival and Research Center of St. Louis was allowed to distribute pamphlets in the schools for protection of wolves.

Bills ordered paid included $35,855 from the educational fund, $18,918 from the building fund, $60,226 from the new construction fund number two, $484 from the joint agreement fund, $266 in federal fund, and $2,640 from the transportation fund.

Memorial fountain on calendar

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

For the second consecutive year, the First Granite City National Bank is issuing home calendars featuring a full color photograph of a local scene.

The 1974 calendars, made available to the public this week, show the Granite City Memorial Park fountain at night.

A limited supply of unmounted photos suitable for framing or album mounting are available without charge upon request, a bank official said.

The first in the current series of local landscapes featured a portion of Skevling Rock Gardens in Wilson Park.

Traditionally, calendars depict winter scenes usually of one of our mountain states," a bank spokesman stated. He added, "We believe there is much beauty in our local scenes worthy of recognition and publicity."

Memorial Park is located opposite St. Elizabeth Hospital at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues. The fountain uses a recycling water system with seven sprays and reflective lights of different hues to create the "vest-pocket" park's central attraction.

The concrete fountain was dedicated on Sept. 25, 1961, to the memory of local veterans of all wars.

Funds for the cascading water decoration were obtained by public subscription spearheaded by the War Memorial Association, according to Milton Worthen, a member of the Granite City Park Board for 22 years who also served as Memorial Association president.

A total of $14,000 was collected over a period of 12 years to build the memorial. Mr. Worthen said some donations were contributed by veterans' organizations and individuals, while others were obtained from public events, such as a Fourth of July picnic at Wilson Park, he recalled. The circular wellspring was designed by Architect Henry Gabriel and constructed by G. H. Sternberg & Co. Beneath the fountain is a shallow basement area housing the pumps and lighting equipment.

Mr. Worthen said the tiered water system replaced a wooden bandstand which had fallen into disrepair over the years.

The retired park district officer noted that Memorial Park was purchased from the Niedringhaus family for the sum of $6,000 in 1921, shortly after the district was established.

"As we had no tax money coming in at that time, we paid off the debt at a $1,000 a year," he added.

After the War Memorial Association secured sufficient funds to launch the project, the park board agreed to underwrite the cost of landscaping the fountain area and has continued to maintain its operation throughout the years. Mr. Worthen explained.

CALENDAR ART. The cascading fountain in Memorial Park, Madison and Niedringhaus avenues is displayed in full color on the 1974 home calendars currently being issued by First Granite City National Bank as part of a continuing series to recognize local scenic points of interest.

$28 million budget for SIUE restrictive

The Illinois Board of Higher Education on Tuesday recommended $28,025,000 in operating funds for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The total is an increase of $702,000 over the current year's operating budget.

The BHE recommends $1,098,100 in salary increases for SIUE and says the budget proposal can also provide $221,600 for price increases in non-personnel costs, $12,900 for opening of new buildings and $430,800 for new academic programs.

To meet the recommendations of the BHE, the university would have to reallocate approximately $800,000 internally, Dr. John S. Riedleman, SIUE president, said.

He described the budget proposal at "one we probably will have to live with, but a budget that places severe restrictions on the university's ability to meet legitimate educational needs of the area."

The BHE slashed 3 per cent from the base budget because of enrollment declines at SIUE. Other institutions receiving cuts because of enrollment decreases were SIU at Carbondale, Eastern Illinois University, Sangamon State University and Northern Illinois University.

Last August, the SIUE Board of Trustees requested $31,836,282 in operating funds for SIUE.

The BHE also recommended $3,185,000 for capital improvements for the next fiscal year for SIUE. The university had requested $23,068,709.

The recommendation gives top priority to remodeling of the Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis, home of the SIUE Center there, for which $125,000 is allocated. The board recommended $1,400,000 for furnishing and equipping two classroom buildings now under construction, $1,500,000 for required expansion of the Dental Medicine heating and refrigeration plant and $100,000 for remodeling of Alton facilities of the School of Dental Medicine.

Ministers donate to Yule baskets

The Quad Cities Ministerial Association voted in a meeting Tuesday to give $160 to the Salvation Army, $20 to Protestant Welfare, and $20 to Catholic Welfare for Christmas baskets to needy families from money that was received from the Thanksgiving Services sponsored by the Association. They also voted to give $20 to the United Way and $25 to the Community Clothing Closet.

It was reported that $1,117 was pledged to the United Way campaign this year by ministers and churches, nearly $50 more than was pledged the year before.

Reports were made on a visitation to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville, the Community Thanksgiving Services, and pastoral services at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

It was voted by an 8 to 3 margin, with 1 abstention, that the Ministerial Association go on record to support the "Call to Concern" a statement on the abortion policy of the outpatient surgical clinic that was signed by 31 Granite City ministers and presented to the City Council on Nov. 19th. Since the number has increased to 34.

A committee of Robert Kretschmer, Ronald Kerley, Carl Fischelbrener, Paul Surbey, and Frank Christ was appointed to continue to look into the policies of this clinic.

New officers for the year 1974 were elected. Ellis Dugger of Trinity United Methodist Church was elected president, Frank Christ of First United Presbyterian Church of Madison was elected vice-president, Capt. Kerley of the Salvation Army was elected secretary, and Rev. Kretschmer of St. Peter Evangelical Church of Christ was elected treasurer.

The association has been leading worship services at the Colonades Nursing Homes each Thursday at 2 p.m. The association voted to also lead services at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home at 3 p.m. on Thursdays.

Mrs. Judy Padgett made a presentation and answered questions about the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society.

The next meeting of the Quad Cities Ministerial Association will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 8, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. All ministers of the Quad-Cities have been invited to attend.

County can switch board vote to fall

Gov. Dan Walker on Tuesday signed Senate Bill 1 of the fourth fall special session, giving county boards the power to eliminate April county board elections in Downstate counties, consolidating them into the November general elections.

He said the bill could save taxpayers $3 million if all counties exercised the option of consolidation.

Gov. Walker had strongly urged that the consolidations be mandatory. He had returned another bill to the General Assembly, amending it from an optional to mandatory, but legislators did not concur with the change and left the option to the county boards.

Walker said, "Unnecessary elections are some of the costliest expenses for the taxpayers. They are a waste of money. I campaigned against wasting money and for consolidation of county board elections."

"I am confident that county boards which are economy-minded and attentive to taxpayers' pleas to cut expenses will choose to consolidate." He estimated the potential saving in Madison County at $40,000.

Area PTA Council hears special education panel

A panel of special education teachers presented the program at a meeting of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs held last week at Webster School.

Mrs. Vera Farrow, council president, introduced the guests, including Larry Dew, Director of Special Education Region I, which includes the school districts of Madison, Venice and Granite City.

Dew served as moderator and panel members were Vince Rogers, speech therapist at Oakridge Junior High School, Mary Lou Hudson, a learning disabilities teacher at Webster and Lake schools, Betty Barteck, school nurse at Nameoki and Mitchell schools; Bob Gagliano, teacher of mentally impaired pupils at Granite City High School South; Joyce Berger, oral deaf teacher at Johnson School; and Stu Mills, a Region I supervisor.

Mrs. Farrow Kirgan, council cultural arts chairman, announced the winners of a PTA poster contest. They are Kevin Cripps, first place and Kathy Hopkins, second place, both from Mitchell School, Rhonda Rea, third place, Maryville School, Kathy Griffith, fourth place, Washington School; and De Ann Worley, fifth place, Parkview School.

Mrs. Kirgan opened the meeting with the pledge of allegiance and PTA prayer. Officers' reports were submitted by Mrs. Dorothy Phelps and Mrs. Helen Lapchick.

A letter from John E. Conley and Edward T. Tholke, directors of "The PTA Magazine," invited written contributions to a column in the publication, entitled "People Taking Action." Mrs. Mary McCabe said the column is open to any PTA unit wishing to share ideas and new projects with other units in the organization.

Clyde Lee, Webster principal, reviewed events at a recent meeting of the Granite City Board of Education. Other reports were presented by Beverly Foote, legislation chairman and Betty Bartels, health chairman.

Mrs. Farrow discussed a proposed "Celebrity Auction" and appointed Mrs. Kirgan to serve as chairman. A date to be held will be announced later, she said.

The PTA Council's annual banquet will be held Feb. 21 at Granite City High School North. Mrs. Farrow said. She urged all PTA unit presidents to prepare a list of proposed candidates for special recognition.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the Webster PTA officers and members.

The council board will meet Jan. 10 at Nameoki School and the regular meeting was set for Jan. 24 at Emerson School.

Volunteers needed at nursing homes

Plans to decorate the Madison County Nursing and Shelter Care homes this week were made by the Volunteer Auxiliary which met at the nursing home in Edwardsville for its November meeting.

Also planned was a gift wrapping session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the nursing home facility when members will prepare boxes of tissue to be presented residents. Volunteers are needed to assist in the project and are invited to meet with members Tuesday night.

Additions to holiday decorations are needed for the facilities, a spokesman said. Volunteers to aid in several other projects also are being sought, she added.

"We promise you the golden-crispiest fried chicken you've ever eaten."

Roy Collins
Division Manager

Rudy Miller
Store Manager

When you make a promise like that, you've got to be serious about your fried chicken. And we are. That's why we—and every one of our 500 Church's Fried Chicken Kitchens from coast to coast—take such special care in preparing fried chicken for folks just like you.

We start by marinating large, fresh whole chickens overnight. Frozen would never do with us. Then we fry them naturally, right before your eyes. No pressure-cooking. No spicy, greasy taste. Just golden-crispy on-the-outside, juicy and delicious on-the-inside chicken.

And since our larger chickens are cut into eight large pieces (instead of nine small ones) you get more taste—and more chicken—for your money.

So come on over. We're proud to be in Granite City. And eager to show you with just one bite that the golden taste of Church's always comes ringing through!

Those graduating were: Gwendolyn Baker, Ida Cannon, Alice Clark, Ann Clark, Nancy Groff, Lorice Hinton, Annette Hilton, Jeanette Haynes, Linda Garcia and Patricia A. Stepanek.

The program is conducted as part of the VLTTC curriculum, in coordination with St. Elizabeth Hospital. A new class is forming this week and will be taught by Mrs. Lucille Himmelfart R.N. Paul Raczkievicz, assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth's, addressed the vital part which the nurse aide plays on the health-care team there. Comments also were made by John O. Pier, superintendent of schools in Venice, and K. Duane Rankin, director of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Reimers represented the Gideon Society and presented New Testaments to the graduates.

The St. Elizabeth hospital administration, a vital link in the training program, was represented by Sister Mary Thomas and Roberta Gerke. Music was provided by the "Spiritual Seekers," made up of Lorice Hinton, Ann Clark, and Alice Clark, also graduates of the program.

There are openings for persons interested in enrolling in the new class for nurse aides forming this week at the center. Openings also exist in other areas of Adult Basic Education, including the high school diploma program, G. E. D. preparation, and a wide variety of clerical courses.

While there was a cut-off of funds for the adult center last summer, sufficient monies were restored to allow the completion of the current school year. There are both day and evening classes available, with free transportation and no tuition charge.

Enrollment is open. Those desiring more information may call 876-7792 or call at the center on South Fourth Street in Venice.

Most not eager for rationing

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Washington—Congressional mail rooms in the Illinois delegation are waiting for the other shoe to drop in the oil crunch.

President Nixon dropped the first shoe when he gave the nation his plan to cope with the oil shortage caused by the Arab embargo. Although Illinois constituents have been voicing their opinions for some time to their senators and congressmen on the energy crisis, it is too early for their ultimate reaction to the President's strategy. But when the other shoe drops, it will probably make quite a thump.

If a theme was apparent, said an aide to Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson's office, it was that "people are mad."

So far, the Illinois Democrat has received a "mixed bag," mostly suggestions ranging from development of solar energy to criticism of Presidential flights to Florida and California retreats.

Sen. Charles H. Percy's staff has been getting a heavy volume of mail on the energy crunch.

In Rep. Kenneth J. Gray's district, opinion has been running heavily against rationing and for voluntary cutbacks, the West Frankfort Democrat reports.

The mail to Rep. Melvin Price of East St. Louis has dealt with personal problems, and the tenor has been "What a mess everything is," the local Democrat reports.

Lottery and Chicago area mass transportation assistance were among the legislative products of a generally unimpressive state Assembly session

Establishment of an Illinois state lottery drew as sharply contrasting views among legislators as among citizens during the special assembly session ending during the weekend. But the program is now a certainty, and sale of tickets will begin at some point in 1974, the time depending on whether further implementing legislation is enacted next spring.

Apparently because the net proceeds will go into the state's general fund, rather than being earmarked for education and mental health, support for an immediate start fell four votes short in the Senate and 16 votes short in the House.

The present rationalization is that the lottery will partly offset the general state revenue which is to be diverted to meet mass transit costs in the six-county Chicago area.

Not many alternatives to an increase in Venice School District tax rate

Venice School District No. 3 voters face a difficult choice in tomorrow's special balloting, scheduled for noon to 7 p.m. at the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, and the Eagle Park Improvement Association, 16011 St.

Because it is an important decision, all who are eligible are being encouraged to vote Friday.

Few people wish to see their taxes rise, and the proposed 80-cent rate increase is a steep one; it would boost the present Venice rate per $100 valuation from $2.05 to $2.85.

But a major infusion of funds has been necessitated by patterns of sharply decreasing assessment and rapidly rising costs.

Each penny of tax rate in the Venice school system now produces only $3,287, compared to $3,959 a

Challenging future for Venice following the death of its five-term mayor

The passing of Dr. John E. Lee Jr. in his fifth term as Venice mayor was not unexpected because of the critical nature of the paralyzing cerebral hemorrhage he had suffered. His death nevertheless is a severe blow to the many thousands who knew, respected and genuinely liked him.

The ruggedly handsome, powerfully-built dentist, banker and governmental leader combined astute business and political judgment with a considerate, reasonable approach to all of the many issues with which he dealt.

Steel shortage slows oil search

WASHINGTON — Despite an expected record production of approximately 190 million tons of steel this year, there will not be enough to meet the demands of the oil and gas industries and their quest for new wells.

Substantial shortages of steel for drilling, pipeline, storage tanks, tank truck liners, cable, chain and fittings have limited exploration, production and distribution of these key fuels.

"Steel mills are operating at their top effective capacity," a spokesman for the American Iron & Steel Institute (AISI) said in an interview. "We will produce about 190 million tons of raw steel and ship 110 million tons of finished mill products this year — both U.S. records."

"But we haven't been able to keep up with demand. Nor will the 13 million tons of finished steel to be imported in '73 overcome the shortages."

(Tubular steel for the Alaskan oil pipeline, a project recently approved by Congress, has been in place for about three years, according to a U.S. Bureau of Mines official. The project thus will not be competing with the metal. Environmentalists had held up the pipeline until the energy crisis caused some rethinking in Congress.)

The AISI spokesman noted that finished steel is being shipped out as fast as it is ready.

Townships in county began in early 1800s

By LOUIS WHITSELL

Madison County Board Member

Nameless Township Supervisor

To restore the people's faith in the profession of politics, the local officials must make the people aware of the workings of their government.

The few citizens understand township and county government, so I have compiled a description of their duties.

The profession of politics has a bad image, but it is unfair to judge every politician the same.

Each profession has as many saints, in proportion to sinners, as any other legitimate vocation.

There isn't a more honorable calling than public service.

If we do our job of informing the public, we will be rewarded with the satisfaction that those who understand their government will participate in it.

In 1792, an act was passed by the Continental Congress, directing the governor of the Northwest Territory to lay out counties and townships and to appoint magistrates and other civil officers in these units.

Under this ordinance, General St. Clair was appointed governor of the territory. In 1796, he organized, by proclamation, the County of St. Clair.

As thus constituted, the county extended nearly 250 miles from north to south, with a maximum width of nearly 80 miles.

In the same year, Knox County was created, which included about half of the State of Illinois, Indiana and parts of Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Succeeding years were accompanied by frequent boundary changes and many new counties. Between 1790 and 1818, the Illinois Territory gained 14 new counties. 11 of which were in the southern tip of the territory.

When the state was admitted into the Union in 1818, several of the counties were already divided into townships.

These early units were larger in area than present-day townships and were irregular in shape. Officers were appointed, and the town meeting was unknown.

The first Illinois Constitution of 1818 contained no provisions for the organization of counties, townships or road districts.

However, the General Assembly soon provided for the organization of townships and new counties. Civil townships were made bodies, police, corporate and each township was to be established as an election precinct.

The second Constitution of 1848 contained a section directing the General Assembly to pass legislation permitting any county to adopt township organization. Accordingly, a law enacted in 1859 provided for a vote on adoption of township organization.

This act ignored civil townships and adopted the survey of land as the basis for geographical base.

In the November election of 1848, the four counties of northern and central parts of the state adopted township organization.

People who migrated from the east settled in the northern and central part of the state and brought with them the township form of government.

People who migrated to Illinois from the southern states, principally Virginia, Kentucky and the Carolinas, naturally favored the county system which prevailed in those states.

This group settled in the southern part of Illinois and we find today that of our counties, most of which are in Southern Illinois, do not have townships, but rather a county commission system of government.

Illinois has 102 counties with an average of about 350 square miles. Twenty-nine counties that were framed before the Constitution of 1848 have areas less than 100 square miles.

There are some governmental functions which the state, by its Constitution and Statutes, has declared essential to be performed throughout its area. Many of these functions the state government performs itself.

For other functions, counties and townships have been created and certain powers delegated to them for purposes to provide grassroots government, thereby lessening the chance of creating a kingdom or dictatorship.

Counties, possessed no inherent powers, but had only such powers as conferred upon by the state.

Over the years, county government in Illinois has been charged with the performance of a great variety of functions.

Included among the present functions are: reviewing assessments and collections of taxes; conduct of elections; recording of legal documents; law enforcement and administration of justice; construction of certain roads, bridges and parks; welfare; furnishing copies of vital statistics; issuing licenses; and certain regulatory functions.

As building and zoning, subdivision control, environmental control and control of animals.

Although all townships have many powers, their duties are relatively few in number. Only a few types of services are expressly required of all townships.

These include: providing for welfare assistance, building and maintaining certain roads and bridges; collection and prevention of property tax; preventing spreading of communicable diseases; collecting agricultural statistics; and, specifically allowed by the state legislature, except for the townships.

It is very difficult to explain the thought behind the creation of co-terminals congressional townships. However, at the time of their creation, the inventors had the vision of economy.

A co-terminals township is another instance of building where a city of a certain population can become a township of its own, such as Madison County, with duties of assessment of taxes and law enforcement.

In this system, the aldermen of the city become the Town Board.

Because of co-terminals townships and their limited duties, township government as a whole has been criticized.

Neighboring townships bitterly opposed annexations of their territory, since the city would pay the cost of the township, causing a loss of valuation and population.

This loss of revenue, and the cost of paying equal salaries for serving as a Town Board member, has proven to be a false economy.

Because of townships which are co-terminals, they are included with a municipality, because elected officers in each township.

They are the supervisor, collector, assessor, tax collector, highway commissioner and four auditors.

The term for elected officers is four years each; each has his own district and is elected only to the electors at the polls.

The supervisor is not the boss, as often assumed. Appointed officers include public aid case workers, town inspectors, rabies control officers, deputy assessor and default collectors.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS

In addition to those levels of government described, there are other local governments formed to give additional service in specific areas that are a completely separate form of government from the township.

The following districts are provided for: fire, police, sanitary, forest preserves, wildlife, drainage, public health and TB sanitation.

People are called special purpose districts because they perform special functions in places where such functions are desired and existing units of government are not able to perform them.

Cities and villages are classed along with the state, counties and townships as general purpose units, because they are authorized to perform a variety of functions.

The annual town meeting is an important function in the township. The law requires that it be held on the second Tuesday of April in each year.

Notice of the time and place for holding a town meeting is given by the township clerk or, if he is absent, by the supervisor, assessor or tax collector. Printed notices are posted in three of the most public places in the Township at least 10 days before the meeting date.

The place of holding the meeting and election is at some convenient place in the township, fixed by the Board of Auditors.

At each annual meeting the township officers prepare a combined budget and appropriation ordinance.

The Board of Auditors, for purposes other than the Road and Bridge Fund is ordinarily prepared by the Board of Auditors, and by the supervisor, or the clerk if either one is authorized to do so by the ordinance of the township.

The ordinance is subsequently approved by the board.

At least one public hearing must be held prior to the meeting and notice of this

'Help others' guided Dr. Lee's life

To the Editor:

I would like to offer some personal reflections on the late John "Doc" Lee.

I do not feel qualified to speak from the viewpoint of a close friend, but as a lifelong resident of the city of which he was mayor, I consider myself a friend of Doc.

When any friend passes on, one is left with a feeling of emptiness or of irreplaceable loss. With the passing of Doc, this feeling is amplified because of the degree in which he touched my life and the lives of hundreds of other people.

In these days of political scandal, it was reassuring to know that there was still someone involved in politics who was interested in the welfare of his constituents.

Whenever a person had a problem, question or complaint, he would always find a bendable ear with Doc.

He was an active man, especially in those areas which involved helping other people.

I really cannot say enough about the man, but I do feel that if someone turned down an opportunity to meet and talk with Doc, he missed quite an experience.

Compliments and testimonials are things that everyone gives but all too rarely means. I feel that the best testimony to this great man would be an attempt to try to emulate him.

It would mean that we would take a more active interest in people who are less fortunate than ourselves.

Helping others seemed to have been the basic motivating factor of Doc. Physically he is gone, but I hope that his ideals and principles will live on in those who knew and respected him.

Abortion ends basic right to live

To the Editor:

Jan. 22, 1973, will go down as one of the blackest days in American history. Seven of the U.S. Supreme Court judges ruled that it is okay to kill babies that are not born.

Abortion is simply murder with a new name.

It is a premeditated slaughter of innocent boys and girls who are crying in the womb and trying to leave their mother.

The new permissive abortion law represents a total rejection of one of the basic values of our society.

Americans have always recognized the sanctity of human life. We fought World War II to preserve life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Legalizing abortion can lead to destruction of retarded children, old people and all other human beings who are a burden on society. Physical and mental perfection will be denied in the growth of our way to losing all respect for life in America.

Here are recent examples of disrespect for life: In 1972, Florida, Wisconsin and Hawaii all introduced euthanasia bills first killing old people.

Recently, Oregon did the same. The Supreme Court decision must be reversed. Too many Americans aren't aware of this new court ruling, which means death for the unwanted. Death first for babies, and then later you and me as we get old and sick.

Anti-life forces are using abortion as the first step toward ridding society of all unwanted persons. The Hitler regime used abortion and then exterminating whole races of innocent people. It was simple, when all respect for life was lost.

Willful abortion simply means that one human being is denying the rights of another human being to live, which is profoundly immoral. Always ask, "What if it was me, or my brother or sister?" If it was somebody's brother or sister,

When this great land allows a law to be passed that takes away the life of an unborn child, it then can kill the sick and the feeble and anyone else who exists is a burden. Then the excuses would be that one was mentally ill, illiterate, crippled, handicapped or disabled.

What can people do to save themselves in the future? Write to their congressmen, U.S. senators and other political leaders and let them know their resentment.

Remember that "evil triumphs when good men do nothing." I urge that people ask all their organizations—religious, social, fraternal and veterans—to go on record and be heard against abortion.

The future of each person and his existence is at stake, and also future generations and the future of America.

We are supposed to be guaranteed "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Are we?

Assembly stresses Bible principles

To the Editor:

I would like to take this occasion to thank you on behalf of our recent assembly at the Franklin Community High School in West Frankfort.

People from your area attended this convention and we attribute a measure of its success due to your fine help.

We sincerely feel that the various Bible principles emphasized during the assembly will help each family group understanding. And this can help but reflect in benefit to our local community.

hearing is given in a newspaper at least one week before the date set for the hearing.

The moderator provides, makes announcements of the business before the meeting, preserves order and decides all questions of order.

He has the same power as is subject to the same penalties as any officer of the township.

Business should include the supervisor's annual financial statement in the accounts of the supervisor and highway commissioner.

The budget and appropriation ordinance may be reconsidered and additional changes made by a majority vote. It is important that the township clerk keep the budget at the hearing and the town meeting be recorded.

The town clerk acts as clerk, keeping the minutes of the proceedings in a book known as the "Town Record."

This record is signed by both the clerk and moderator.

The supervisor is responsible for township funds and monies.

The Board of Auditors, whenever requested by the supervisor, designates a bank or other depository in which the funds and monies of the township shall be kept.

Before a bank is qualified to receive such funds, it must furnish the board with a financial statement.

The supervisor receives and pays out money for township expenses. He keeps a record of all transactions, in an official book.

These records are within the provision of the "Local Records Act," and he files a statement of financial status with the township with the town clerk on or before the Tuesday preceding the annual township meeting.

At the same time he accounts to the Board of Auditors for all receipts and expenditures.

Ask the Governor

Q. In your property tax relief law, it says there is as much as a $500 grant available. I would like to know how a person would be able to get such a grant. My husband is totally disabled in the Madison County Nursing Home, costing me $500 a month in medicine and doctor bills. My income is $400 a month. I was sent a letter which told me I was able to collect on 5 acres and a house. I have sent you my property tax relief form. If you think my return is correct, why do you think low income people are getting so little?—Mrs. W. Ritchie, Highland.

A. Your letter certainly raises an important point which the legislature should study. At this time, nothing can be done because we must comply with the law, and the Illinois Department of Revenue tells me that your 1972 claim for property tax relief was computed and no error was found in the grant sent you last month. I fully understand your disappointment in not receiving more tax relief. I also share the grief and misfortune that has befallen your husband this past year.

The tax relief for senior citizens and disabled persons, as enacted by the Legislature, has one purpose and that is to protect the senior citizens and disabled persons while living on a restricted income.

It is true that grants can be as high as $500, but under the formula set forth by the Illinois Legislature, this can happen in only those instances where the property tax is excessively high in relation to a person's income.

The property tax law is written so that it is not a grant for property tax residential purposes but excludes any relief on large land holdings. And this is the way you can understand why. Consequently, persons owning farm land are entitled to relief only on taxes paid for the farm home and 5 acres of ground. Acreage over and above this limitation was not intended by the Legislature to be a proper subject for tax relief, generally because of the prevailing market value of farm land and its income producing nature. For this reason, the Department of Revenue could give no consideration to the full amount of property taxes you paid on your farm but only on that amount representing your residence and 5 acres of ground which you indicated on your tax relief form. This is the limit for everyone.

It is distressing for me to learn that both you and your husband could have been eligible for separate grants had not your husband's confinement been in a tax supported institution like the Madison County Nursing Home. But, this being the case, the two of you may, under the law, file one claim.

In a letter to you, I have detailed how your tax form was computed and have explained how this complies with the law. I have no legal authority to change a law as passed, but my hope at this time is for future legislation that would provide more relief for the senior citizen and this will have my full-hearted support.

Gov. Dan Walker invites you to question him about state government and what state government should be doing for people. All questions will be answered by Gov. Walker and some of the questions and answers will appear, probably condensed, in this column. Letters must be signed and an address provided. Upon request, your name will be withheld. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 201 W. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Need written pact to defer farm income

By JAMES R. SHEARL, Farm Extension Adviser
Many Illinois farmers who file tax returns on a cash basis believe they can defer income to next year by simply asking a buyer to pay for their 1973 grain during 1974. But that's not the case.

Income from 1973 grain sales can be deferred until 1974 only if there is an adequate written agreement between the buyer and seller, says Al Rock, University of Illinois Extension law specialist.

The written agreement must specify that the seller has no right to the payment until 1974 and that this provision is part of the consideration for the contract. Other clauses may also be desirable in the deferred sales contract, a copy of a contract that can be considered by your attorney is available at the Extension office in Edwardsville.

Be certain an acceptable deferred payment agreement is completed if income is to be deferred until 1974, advises Rock.

Democratic year shaping up but state GOP will try hard

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau
Springfield, Va., Virginia, there will be a candidate.

There was loud Statehouse scoffing at the flurry of speculation bouncing across the political circuit from Washington to Springfield that incumbent Democratic U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson might find himself unopposed in 1974.

Forget about it. Not in Illinois. We're too strong a two-party state.

Furthermore, experience has taught professional politicians that no election is a cinch in Illinois. The most recent and still stunning example is Daniel Walker's upset of Paul Simon in the 1972 Democratic primary for governor.

Senatorial races in Illinois have seen their share of surprises. There have been some upsets, and some have turned out a lot closer than had been anticipated at their opening.

The last big senatorial surprise came in 1966 when Republican Charles H. Percy, who almost had to be begged to run, came on to crush previous unbeatable Democratic Paul H. Douglas by 422,302 votes. A year before the election, Republicans were wondering if they would be able to field a serious candidate against Douglas.

Douglas himself originally reached the Senate via the upset route, riding an anti-GOP landslide in 1948 to unseat once highly popular Republican C. Wayland "Curly" Brooks.

Two years later, there was another of those quick Illinois political turnarounds when then Congressman Everett M. Dirksen toppled powerful Democrat Scott W. Lucas of Havana, then majority leader of the U. S. Senate.

Dirksen, who subsequently became one of the most influential minority leaders in the history of the U. S. Senate, had more than a little difficulty in being re-elected in his later years.

In 1962, Democrats had trouble finding an opponent for Dirksen, finally came up with Congressman Sidney R. Yates, a Chicagoan, virtually unknown Downstate. Yates, however, made a strong campaign and came within a respectful 213,195 votes of beating Dirksen.

The race was actually closer than the final count indicates.

Some Statehouse strategists at the time thought Yates might have squeezed in had it not been for the Cuban missile crisis shortly before election day that saw President Kennedy summoning Dirksen back to Washington for high-level bipartisan consultation.

Dirksen also was considered a shoo-in winner as late as his last campaign in 1968 with abundant predictions of a million-plus plurality. But his foe, then Atty. Gen. William G. Clark made a race of it and lost to Dirksen by only 285,705 votes.

Early predictions of landslides in Illinois often fail to holdup because both parties have strong organizations and loyal supporters who frequently close ranks by election day. Usually, it's the big bloc of independent voters that fuels the Illinois landslide.

Republicans concede that everything seems to be going for Stevenson next year—excluding his name, Watergate, the economy and the lack of a "Name" opponent.

But they still see the prospect of a hard-fought campaign—especially on behalf of the GOP candidates in Cook County, where scandals continue to rock the Daley machine, and in many races for Congress, the legislature and local offices.

It still looks like a Democratic year, but don't expect the Republicans to give up.

ARCHBISHOP KAREKIN SARKISSIAN who will arrive in Granite City Friday for a three-day visit. He will be the celebrant of the Divine Liturgy at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at St. Gregory Church, 1732 Maple St.

Steel copper cable

Several thousand feet of copper electrical cable were stolen from the Corn Sweeteners, Inc., dry starch building, 19th Street and the railroad tracks, it was reported Monday.

A live electrical copper feeder cable on top of the building was cut before the cable was taken. Also stolen were half-ton and two-ton chain blocks.

A chain on the East 20th Street gate was cut to gain entrance.

Sewer repair costs $912,043

Another payment of $188,144 for repair of sewer breaks in the Nameoki area was approved by the Granite City Council Monday night, bringing to $912,043 the total cost of sewer repairs so far this year.

The payment was made to Finis Ernest, Inc., an East St. Louis contracting firm which has been repairing a series of 16 sewer breaks since mid-summer.

The bill was approved by the council when funds for payment were made available by transferring $100,000 from the flood disaster aid fund, $100,000 from the sales tax fund and $12,000 from the state income tax fund.

This total of $212,000 included transfers of $189,057 to the maintenance of sewers fund, $19,508 to the street department, $802 to the humane department, $1,782 to the crossing guards fund and $851 to the city engineer's account.

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said the transfer of $100,000 from the disaster aid fund exhausts that account. The city has received only $150,000 in flood disaster funds made available by the government to repair damages caused by flooding last spring. Rutledge said he does not know at this point whether more money will be received, how much or when.

The city, at the beginning of the fiscal year on May 1, appropriated $800,000 for repair of Nameoki area sewer breaks, but the money already spent for this purpose is $112,043 in excess of the appropriation.

The high cost of the sewer repairs is due to the necessity of de-watering, a process of lowering the ground water table to permit workers to reach the sewer lines, and of bypass pumping which is a process of moving sewage around the broken lines.

Of the total of $188,144 in sewer repair costs authorized for payment Monday night, $122,400 was for dewatering and bypass pumping operations.

Of the total of $912,043 in repair costs paid thus far, $679,400 involved contractor's costs for dewatering and bypass pumping.

Since the city still has repairs to be completed at several locations, sewer repair costs appear certain to run well above $1 million, with the possibility of more breaks because of recent rains.

The council approved Monday night the payment of $122,400 in claims in the general fund, including the payment to the Ernest firm.

Tuition hike to be opposed

State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis said Tuesday he will oppose a proposed increase in tuition at public universities.

In a statement to the Illinois Board of Higher Education, Dr. Bakalis said his opposition stemmed mainly from the failure of the board to address itself to the plight of middle-class families who bear the heaviest tuition burden.

He said, "Eventually we must face and resolve the fundamental issue: Is public higher education in Illinois a right or a privilege?"

"If it is a privilege, as many claim, a tuition increase should dispel once and for all the popular notion that our system of higher education is state supported."

Middle income families are ineligible for low interest loans and other monetary assistance which is available to the very poor for college costs, he noted. The result, Bakalis said, is inequality between the wealthy and poor, on one hand, and middle-income families, on the other hand.

Bakalis said the current policy is difficult to reconcile with "the once prevailing theory in this country that an educated middle and professional class benefits society and the benefits should, therefore, be paid for by society."

Bakalis listed six general points for opposing a proposed six per cent tuition increase. They are:

1. Should higher education be considered a privilege or a right?
2. Will a tuition increase enhance or retard equal access to higher education?
3. What will be the impact of a tuition increase on middle-income students?
4. Can and should the Illinois State Scholarship Program be relied on to offset the effects of a tuition increase?
5. Will a tuition increase

"close the gap" between the tuition levels of public and nonpublic education? And is a "close the gap" policy either possible or desirable?

6. Can the revenue generated by a 6 per cent increase ($4 million) in tuition be derived from alternative sources?

Solve thefts

Seven juveniles between the ages of 12 and 16 have been referred by the Madison Police Department to Coordinated Youth Services after the police juvenile department solved the theft of copper guttering from the Nativity of Virgin Mary Church, 419 Ewing Ave., Madison, on two occasions, and once from Heiken's Inc., 408 Madison Ave., Madison.

The guttering, worth about $60, was sold by the juveniles for $80, it was disclosed. The juveniles all were from Madison.

Traffic controls okayed

Three new traffic controls—one of which places stop signs on Aubrey Avenue at Jill Avenue—were approved by the Granite City Council Monday night. The other two ordinances limit parking at separate locations.

An ordinance providing for repeal of yield signs on Aubrey at Jill replaces the yields with traffic stops.

In separate ordinances, the council limited parking to 30 minutes on the east side of Grand Avenue for a distance of 80 feet in front of 2118 Grand Avenue, and limited parking to one hour on the north side of Niedringhaus commencing at Olive Street and continuing easterly for 100 feet.

A fine of $3 was set in both ordinances for violation of the parking limits.

In other action, the council referred to the City Plan Commission petitions for rezoning in two cases and a special use permit in another.

One of the requests is for rezoning from R-5 to C-1 zoning ten lots in the 2000 block of Lee Avenue to permit construction of a building by the Granite City Steel Credit Union.

The other rezoning request is for a C-2 zoning at E. Briarcliff.

Drive, now an R-2 classification, for construction of a building to be used for wholesale or retail purposes.

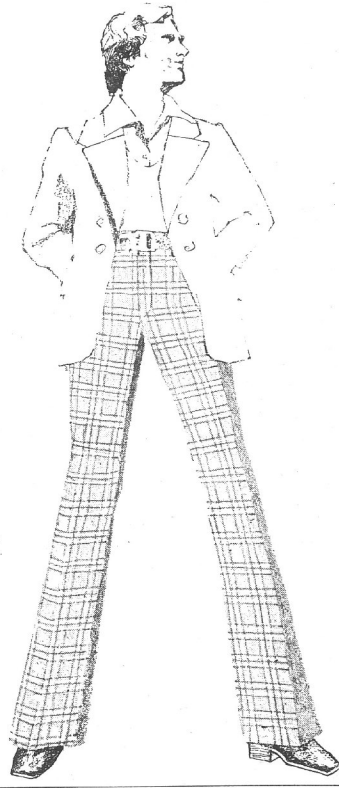

The special use permit is requested for operation of an insurance office at 2809 Madison Avenue.

A call for bids on furnishing the city another police car also was authorized by the council on a motion by Alderman Gerald Parnley, chairman of the police committee. Parnley sought to include the additional car in an order for seven new cars purchased on bidding several weeks ago, but City Attorney George Filcoff ruled the purchase should be separate and made on a new call for bids.

HOUSE BREAK IN
Burglars broke into the home of Daniel Logan, 1011a Calhoun St., Venice, and stole a 20-gauge, single barrel shotgun and two boxes of shells. The theft was reported to police at 8:15 a.m. Tuesday.

The newest recipients are Michael E. Karraker, Belleville, and Peter J. Eaton, Edwardsville. Both cadets are juniors at SIUE.

Mississippi Charles' talent is refreshing

By JUDY HUGG

Care to hear something new, refreshing and very exciting? Well, meet "Mississippi Charles." Bevel, after hearing his new A&M album, called "Meet Mississippi Charles," it seemed only fitting to let the public in on this fellow's life, both musically and personally.

He was born the 14th of 17 children in Sardinia, Miss., living on different cotton plantations most of his early life. After moving to Cleveland with his mother, Bevel decided to join the Navy.

It was through his years in the Navy that Charles, stationed in Hawaii, became a flying radio operator and an electronic technician. These skills have come in handy periodically throughout his life.

After leaving the Navy, he enrolled in San Diego State College where he not only acquired an education but also a wife. In '64 they were married and soon left for Africa to meet her folks. He remained in Liberia for three and a half years.

West Africa was a hell of an experience and I guess a lot of that stuff on the album, particularly the songs "Overheard" and "Percutaneous Meat," came out of that experience," he said.

Then back to Chicago he went, and after a variety of jobs and a frustrating period with Jesse Jackson and "Operation Breadbasket," he got tired of the "whole civil rights thing" inasmuch as he wasn't getting anywhere and decided to learn to play the guitar.

"I went to work at a steel mill in Cleveland, and in my spare time would strum a few chords," he said. "A few months later, for a variety of reasons, I decided to move to a commune in Baltimore. At the time, you know, playing a guitar and writing were just sort of self-serving spiritual satisfaction.

"While I was in the commune, one of the fellows, a buddy of Isaac Hayes, took us to see him play. I had my guitar and was just playing around when his manager heard one of the things I had written and asked for a tape of my song."

This was Bevel's big break, for shortly afterward Isaac's manager contacted him to tell him that he had just earned the fastest $800 he had ever earned in his life. The Staple Singers had just recorded one of his songs, "I'm A Lover," as the B side for their newest single.

Things began to move very quickly now and at the age of 33 Charles began to prepare himself for yet another career, and like every other job and experience in his life, he entered into the project with great caution, skill and seriousness.

"I got some books and just started reading up on the music industry in general," he recalled. "On the strength of the Staple Singers' thing, I headed for Memphis thinking Star Records might be interested in my songs. Somewhere along the way I met Jerry Butler's press agent and things just snowballed from there."

"Before long, Butler himself heard my songs and got in touch with Calvin Carter about producing my music. Calvin and I prepared some demo tapes which we recorded at Universal Studios in Chicago with some of the Ramsey Lewis regulars like Charles Eden and Mark Jennings on drums and bass."

Soon thereafter A&M Records became aware of Charles' many talents, took him on and the results are laid down in "Meet Mississippi Charles Bevel" as only he could do it.

In the 10 cuts that make up the album one can find sweet folk, blues, a gospel tone along with the hard, powerful driving beat of rock. Some of the outstanding cuts include "Sally Be White," "This Thing Happened To Me," and in keeping with the holiday spirit there's "Black Santa Claus."

All of Bevel's lyrics seem to relate to a part of his life, which has been lived to its fullest extent, and he says, "Music is the thing I obviously should have been doing all my life."

Listen to his album and see if you don't agree.

A survey of non-science students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville indicates a 3 to 1 majority believes that some science courses should be required of all college students.

18-year-olds in Illinois eligible for jury duty

Young men and women now have two new privileges and responsibilities, thanks to state legislators' votes during the 1973 sessions of the Illinois General Assembly.

Residents aged 18, 19 and 20 are eligible for jury duty for the first time in Illinois history.

This is a new responsibility which is not to be taken lightly and one which is essential to the democratic backbone of our nation, the Illinois State Bar Association is pointing out.

Young men and women have been asking for some time now to have a broader voice in affairs of state and this law gives them an opportunity to do just that, an ISBA spokesman said.

The second new privilege which legislators granted young men and women, aged 19 and 20, is the right to purchase beer and wine.

However, this new statute in some cases has been modified by local-level ordinances and youths are advised by the State Bar Association to check their local liquor laws before partaking of these alcoholic beverages.

Another warning should be made, the spokesman added. The new law applies to the purchase of beer and wine; 19- and 20-year-olds who attempt to purchase any other type of liquor are subject to arrest and conviction of a misdemeanor.

He concluded, "With any new privilege goes a corresponding responsibility. Abuse of this privilege can possibly mean that it will be taken away."

Added Nursing School funds

An order to release $38.5 million in impounded funds made by a federal judge in Washington in late November will mean additional funds for the SIUE School of Nursing. The impounded money was appropriated by Congress for the capitation grants for nursing schools.

Louise McClelland, dean of the SIUE School of Nursing, says it is still not certain how much SIUE will receive because the amount will be based on various schools' enrollment.

The ruling came in a suit filed by the National League of Nursing on behalf of most of the country's 948 nursing schools. Under the capitation grant program of the Public Health Service Act of 1971 authorized a new section of the educational programs, according to Dean McClelland.

Capitation grants may be used for any purpose the school believes will contribute to its educational program.

Under the capitation grant program at SIUE, students receive money for tuition and other expenses," the dean said.

"Additional funds received by the School of Nursing at SIUE will be used to aid registered nurses through the continuing education program, and also to hire additional faculty in the school," she said.

Gas, oil from Illinois coal?

Congressman Melvin Price has announced that the Department of Interior's Office of Coal Research is studying a proposal to build a $270 million coal liquefaction and gasification plant in Southern Illinois. If a contract is awarded by Jan. 1, 1974, the facility could be completed by the end of 1977.

Coal gasification is conversion of coal to methane gas through a process which adds extra hydrogen atoms to the coal's molecules. Coal liquefaction is a companion process to gasification.

"With a severe and growing shortage of natural gas," said Rep. Price, "the concept of coal gasification becomes more and more attractive."

"Coal liquefaction," he added, "is equally important since not even nuclear, solar, geothermal or fusion energy sources can produce the liquid fuel needed to run our present transportation systems."

The demonstration facility in Southern Illinois would be designed to process 10,000 tons of Illinois No. 6 seam coal per day.

In a related study, the Illinois Institute of Gas technology has reported a new simplified gasification process which may be incorporated in the demonstration plant.

Rep. Price announced that the Federal Aviation Administration Traffic Control Tower at Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia was commissioned Tuesday.

"The tower marks another step in making Parks an efficient, first-class airport," Price said.

The tower will initially be staffed with a chief controller and three air traffic controllers providing air traffic service from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Rep. Price has informed the commissioner of the Office of Education of his support for moderation of proposed changes in eligibility regulations under the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program.

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program, more commonly known as Basic Grants, provides federal grants for post-high school students who demonstrate financial need.

The Office of Education has proposed criteria for determining "family contribution" to the student, one factor which affects financial need.

Rep. Price has suggested that the Office of Education modify the Family Contribution Schedule so as to (1) base the family size offset on the Bureau of Labor Statistics low standard budget, (2) increase from $7,500 to $15,000 the amount of non-liquid family assets from which no contribution will be expected, and (3) apply the student's Social Security payments into other family income instead of considering such payments directly in the calculation of total family contribution.

The congressman said he believes these changes will result in a more equitable distribution of the grants.

Price advised that any priority customer or reseller of propane, or any purchaser or wholesale customer of middle distillate fuels having a complaint under the mandatory allocation programs should file

"Middle distillate fuels" include kerosene, jet fuel, home heating oil, range oil, stove oil, diesel fuel and gas oil. Check writers more active in early part of month

You're no different than your neighbor—or than most companies, for that matter—if you write more checks at the beginning of the month and then taper off as you begin to watch the balance dwindle.

Surveys reveal that the highest daily volume of checks occurs on the first Monday and the highest weekly volume during the first week of the month, according to Dave Giese, cashier of the American National Bank of Granite City and president of the Southern Illinois Chapter of the Bank Administration Institute. He adds that the monthly low point usually occurs around the twenty-ninth day of the month. In a normal week, banks will handle two and one-half times as many checks on Monday and Friday as they do in the middle three days of the week because of routing business practices, he said. For instance, the BAI chapter president points out that the majority of payroll checks are written on Fridays, and weekend deposits result in heavy Monday-Friday patterns in check volume.

U. S. commercial banks processed 14 billion checks in 1962, 21.5 billion in 1970, and they expect to handle 43 billion by 1980.

The median check value—a dollar value at which half the checks are smaller and half larger—lies between $25 and $50, according to BAI, the largest technical association in the banking industry, headquartered in Park Ridge, Ill.

Postpone health inspector class

The starting date of an in-service institute for health inspectors, sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the City of East St. Louis, has been postponed until Jan. 10.

The institute, which will be held on Thursday mornings through Aug. 28, 1974, had been scheduled to begin Dec. 6. Charlotte O. Lee, coordinator of Inner City Allied Health Programs for the SIUE East St. Louis Center, said a conflict in a lecturer's schedule necessitated the postponement.

The institute will be held in the conference room of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the City of East St. Louis, 234 Collinsville Ave. Sanitation inspectors currently employed by the City of East St. Louis and health employees of Madison, Clinton, Randolph, Monroe, Bond and St. Clair counties are eligible to participate.

Mrs. Lee said the objective of the institute is to upgrade professional skills of health inspectors and to help them become current on "emerging concepts, knowledge and techniques relative to their field."

Guest speakers will lecture on a variety of subjects, including public and private water supplies, bacteriology, food microbiology, milk control, botulism and other kinds of food poisoning, meat sanitation and hygiene, sea food control, septic tanks and sewage, mosquito abatement, rodent control, noxious weeds, and sanitation standards for restaurants, hospitals, nursing homes and day care centers.

Air variance is granted GC Steel

Granite City Steel Co. has been granted a variance until Feb. 26, 1974, for completion of air pollution control equipment for the sinter process main window and pug mill.

Delays encountered in the installation of a scrubber system were cited as the reason for not meeting the deadline which was to have been 78 days earlier. The variance was granted by the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

Tire chains still best aid on ice-bound roads

Because of the growing emphasis on forming car pools, many drivers who formerly made the trip to work alone are now becoming more concerned about the safety of their passengers. Chief of Police Ronald Veizer noted today. As a result, many Granite City drivers have turned to the police for an informed opinion on how to get their passengers to work on time during the winter months, regardless of ice and snow covered pavements.

The chief today gave out the following information based on National Safety Council test findings:

Conventional snow tires (without studs) provide appreciably more traction than regular tires for pulling through loosely packed snow, but offer no advantage in stopping on ice pavements.

Studded snow tires, on the other hand, provide about three times the pulling ability of regular tires on ice and cut braking distance by 19 per cent.

Still unmatched in providing traction for both starting and stopping in severe winter conditions is the time-honored remedy for winter worry employed by generations of drivers — reinforced tire chains, readily applied when needed and easily removed when the need has passed.

Published research results show the following average performance, based on tests conducted on ice at temperatures of 25 degrees.

Stopping distance for a car traveling at 20 mph with reinforced tire chains, 75 feet; with new studded snow tires on the rear, 120 feet; with conventional snow tires on the rear, 152 feet; with regular tires, 149 feet.

With respect to pulling ability on ice, studded tires hold the same relative position in efficiency — that is, between regular snow tires and tire chains, according to the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards.

The committee's report summarizes traction test results by stating that snow tires give 28 per cent improvement over regular tires on ice, new studded tires provide 218 per cent improvement, and reinforced tire chains offer 630 per cent improvement on glare ice.

Chief Veizer noted that drivers seeking traction devices that provide complete summertime traction protection to himself and his passengers — and that permit full summertime driving speeds in winter are doomed to disappointment.

Even when using recommended traction aids, he warned that increased caution, reduced speed, and much greater following distances in traffic are the essential ingredients of safe winter driving.

Jan. 17 hearings on air plans

Public hearings are to be held Jan. 17 in Springfield on plans submitted to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency by Reilly Tar & Chemical Co., 19th Street and Edwardsville Road, and Union Electric Co. for the Venice Power Station.

Both plans call for the companies to follow schedules in completing air pollution control programs which will bring them in compliance with federal regulations.

The hearings, both at 10 a.m. Jan. 17 in the Illinois Education Association Building, Second and Edwards streets, Springfield, will allow those who wish to testify an opportunity to express their views, either oral or written.

Those who wish to present testimony must contact the EPA, Division of Air Pollution Control, Variance Section, 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield, by Jan. 10.

To revise town hall plan

The architect for a new Chouteau Township highway garage was asked to revise his plans and reduce the proposed cost of construction during a special meeting of the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors during the weekend.

The board received a preliminary cost estimate of $50,000 for a concrete building from John Rapp, architect.

The auditors said they felt a steel building or other type which would cost less to build would be sufficient for the highway department needs.

Construction of the highway building is to be the first step in a building program which will include a town hall. The program will be financed with federal revenue sharing funds.

A ceremony on the site near Interstate 270 and Route 203 preceded the meeting.

Big upgrading of services to handicapped, gifted and slow learners

Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis during the weekend praised progress made in developing and extending programs and services to Illinois "special" children—the handicapped, the slow learner and the gifted. But he warned against smugness and complacency.

There's much work to be completed, the state school chief told 300 special education administrators and supervisors who met at Northern Illinois University for their annual workshop.

Bakalis said that "new issues must be resolved and adjustments made if we are to survive present growing without the requirement for special education, "there would be no guarantee that in time of financial hardship school districts would not first reduce or perhaps eliminate services and programs for the handicapped."

Bakalis called for a reexamination of the entire funding structure for special education.

A formal, careful review of the funding is planned by the School Problems Commission. In addition, Bakalis said, his office will appoint a study committee to look into special education funding.

Some of the questions the two groups should study, Bakalis said, are: Is the present funding system relevant to the emerging format of special education programming? Should the funding process provide start-up funds? Is the state meeting its financial obligations to the schools in relationship to the responsibilities it has imposed on them?

Should a funding system be devised which rewards extraordinary local effort and provides special assistance to districts without necessary resources?

Can a funding system be designed to diminish the antagonism some school administrators, pinched for funds, feel toward special education? Dr. Bakalis further pointed to a need to redesign an organizational structure to insure services to children with what are called "low incidence handicaps."

He said it is clear that children with physical or sensory impairment are not receiving equal educational opportunity. Because they are a very small percentage of students, they are often left out. In addition, the services they require are more expensive than other special education services, he said. Services to deaf-blind, for example, are fragmented and insufficient to meet the highly unique needs of this population, he asserted.

"We ought to admit our failure in this instance, clean the slate, and begin anew.

"If low-incidence children cannot be served adequately by local districts, or by even regional agreements as they are now structured, then it is incumbent upon us to create a delivery system that works," he declared.

Among the plans under consideration is one to establish a statewide school district which would administer a regional service system and a deaf-blind center.

Bakalis asked the assembled special education experts to study the plan and to offer their advice and opinions on it.

He saluted special education and the contributions it has made to the entire educational process.

"It has contributed to the growing knowledge of how all children learn, whether they have exceptionalities or not.

"Our present enthusiasm for such instructional methods as team teaching, individual pacing, independent study and schools-without-walls has been generated in large measure by the success of special education services and programs."

He disagreed, however, with the concept of putting handicapped children in separate classrooms, isolating them from classmates and automatically labeling them as different. "The distinction between education and special education has always been artificial," he said.

Bakalis encouraged integrating exceptional children into the educational mainstream, concluding, "The concept that handicapped children should be assigned to self-contained classrooms and provided programs having little or no relationship to the regular program of a school must be abandoned."

'Ugly' doing Marine public service duty

Private First Class "Ugly" of the United States Marine Corps, who happens to be an English bulldog, has been assigned to the public affairs office of the Corps with Corporal Robert Cawley of Madison.

Their offices are located at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Room 1166, 210 N. 12th St., St. Louis.

"Ugly" enlisted for three years Sept. 1 under the Marines mascot program. "Ugly" formerly belonged to Wes Schneider of St. Louis, a former Marine.

According to Corporal Cawley, each command station in the corps is authorized one English bulldog as a mascot.

The English bulldog was selected by the U.S. Marines as the official mascot because of their earnest and stubborn will to win in a fight. The bulldog was bred originally to fight bulls. They would bite a bull by the nose, refusing to let go.

"Ugly" has been an official guest on numerous local television shows. The four-legged "Marine" also has been in Christmas and Halloween parades, state fairs, and currently is active in the "Toys for Tots" drive for children's toys at Christmas time.

Anyone wishing "Ugly" for a public appearance for a charity may contact Corporal Cawley at (314) 268-3735.

Private sewage disposal systems being regulated

For the first time, Illinois home owners are protected by state law from faulty installation of private sewage disposal systems, septic tanks.

The new law, administered by the state health department, is designed to protect home owners by giving the department authority to establish standards and regulations governing installation, cleaning and maintenance of private sewage disposal systems.

Under the legislation, private sewage contractors will be licensed and required to follow regulations set by the department.

In addition, the new law authorizes the state health department to inspect private sewage systems and gives it power to initiate legal action against contractors who do not comply with the standards. The law also provides that existing systems may be inspected by the department.

Randolph termed the new legislation "a major step in the protection of consumer health."

He said the new law, coupled with the Water Well Construction Code on safe drinking water for Illinois residents, provides a "package of consumer protection" for a major portion of the state's population.

Memorial Gardens display cancelled

The award-winning display, The Story of Christmas, will not be lighted this year at Lake View Memorial Gardens.

According to S. V. Hurst, president of Lake View, it is hoped that conditions will permit the resumption of the presentation next year.

State suspends 9 contractors

A six-month suspension by the state for nine construction firms and four individuals convicted of bid rigging by the U. S. District Court in Danville was imposed this week by Illinois Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond.

Bond announced that the suspension period began Tuesday, the day after federal suspension of the contracting firms and individuals ended.

This is the first time in the department's history that contractors have received disciplinary suspensions.

Secretary Bond said, "With this state suspension, these contractors will be virtually out of business for one year."

"We have sent telegrams to the firms and individuals against whom we are taking this disciplinary action which state," ... Pursuant to the Illinois Purchasing Act and rules, you, your firm or any firm represented by you are declared unacceptable as bidders on any project for the department or requiring its approval for six months commencing Dec. 4, 1973.

Bond also ordered prequalification ratings for the firms withdrawn for six months.

This will prohibit the firms from getting any county, township or municipal projects involving motor fuel taxes, as well as state and federal projects.

The nine firms are: J. L. Simmons and Co., Decatur and Chicago; Shappert Engineering Co., Belvidere; Champaign Asphalt Co., Champaign; Shoemaker Bridge Co., Urbana; O'Neill Brothers Construction Co. and LaNeil Construction Co., both of Danville; A. J. Walkeer Construction Co., Mattoon; Neal Lentz Construction, Inc., Elgin; and Culberson Construction Co., Pana.

The suspended individuals are: Lee Sentman, vice-president of J. L. Simmons; Donald Walker, president of A. J. Walker Co.; Abe LaBoube, vice-president and a partner in O'Neill Brothers Construction Co.; and Frank M. Shappert, president of Shappert Engineering.

The federal government charged the firms conspired to submit collusive, non-competitive and rigged bids for the Nov. 14, 1968, bid letting on a portion of Interstate 74 in central Illinois.

On May 19, fines were imposed on the contractors and firms by the District Court ranging from $10,000 to $35,000 after they entered pleas of no contest to the federal charges.

"At the request of the U. S. Justice Department and in cooperation with the attorney general's office, we postponed this action so as not to impair their investigations," Bond said.

"With their legal actions now under way, we are taking these stringent actions, and I want to emphasize they are stringent."

"It's impossible to tell exactly what the financial loss to these firms will be as the result of the six-month suspension and suspension of their prequalification ratings," Bond said.

"However, the fact that some of the firms are bidders on multi-million-dollar contracts gives an idea of just how tough the penalty will be on these firms and individuals."

Resume Way of Lights

Illumination of the Way of Lights at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows near Belleville will be resumed Friday for the weekend schedule of 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. On weeknights, it will be in operation on the previously announced cutback time of 6 to 9 o'clock.

The decision to reopen this observance of the birth of Christ was made by a joint executive committee of the Layman's Association and Father William H. Westman, Shrine director.

The director said, "We have already turned off the lights for 11 nights, plus cutting back in the hours of operation so that we have a total reduction of 50 per cent over last year."

In consulting with both Illinois Power Co. and Union Electric Co. we have been assured there is more than adequate energy to service the entire Illinois and St. Louis areas.

"They also indicate that generating call which they use with the lights is in abundant supply. We feel this cutting back is in full cooperation with President Nixon's recommendations and follows his example in curtailing lighting in the White House without its elimination."

"It was into a world overcast with trouble and despair that Jesus was born. We feel that by the Way of Lights we are bringing the people of our area to experience anew the birth of our Savior who is the source of hope for all mankind."

Extension courses here and in region

Nearly 40 extension courses, workshops and in-service programs will be offered in 13 area communities during the winter quarter by the SIUE School of Education.

Cities where courses are scheduled include Granite City, Alton, Belleville, Cahokia, Centralia, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Litchfield, Marissa, Mascoutah, O'Fallon, Red Bud and Springfield.

John E. Forbush, assistant to the dean of the School of Education, said the courses are designed to assist educators in meeting professional training needs in their local communities.

In addition to the regular schedule of courses and workshops, variable formats and course designs also are available, such as weekend classes and mini-courses focusing on the specialized needs of local groups.

Anyone with a suggestion for a regular course, mini-course and/or workshop not presently scheduled may contact Forbush at the SIUE School of Education.

Scheduled courses include offerings in counselor education, career education, educational administration, elementary education, foundations of education, secondary education, instructional technology and special education. Both undergraduate and graduate level courses are offered, with regular members of the SIUE faculty providing the instruction.

The winter quarter begins Jan. 2 and ends March 20. Registration will be taken on the first night of class. No pre-registration is required.

The fees, payable at registration, are $10 per quarter hour credit and $10 per course service charge. Scholarships are acceptable for extension courses.

Most of the courses will be taught in weekly three-hour sessions, on one of the first four nights of the week.

"The extension offerings are the result of a growing concept of taking education to the people," Forbush said. "We are pleased with the response to the courses offered in the fall quarter, and we welcome suggestions for new ways we can be helpful in filling the training needs in area communities."

Detailed listings of the courses are available at area schools and at the SIUE School of Education.

Smith will not acquire firm

Officials of A. O. Smith Corp. and National Steel Construction Co. announced Monday that by mutual consent, A. O. Smith will not exercise its option to acquire National.

L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer of A. O. Smith, and Dirk Eisinga Jr., president of National Steel Construction, made the joint announcement. A. O. Smith obtained an option to acquire the construction firm Oct. 23 through an exchange of stock; the option expires Dec. 31.

"The reason the option will not be exercised, Smith said, is that A. O. Smith could not obtain adequate assurances at this time for a continuing supply of the production materials required to operate at planned levels."

Think again.

The VW Beetle is bigger than our Duster in one important category—price.

As you can see, the '74 Duster's manufacturer's suggested retail price is $114 dollars less than the '74 VW. Destination charges, state and local taxes and dealer prep not included.

That's something to think about.

Especially when you consider that Plymouth Duster seats five. The VW—only four. Duster offers three times as much trunk space.

Duster's engine develops about twice the horsepower and has an Electronic Ignition System that helps eliminate tune-ups. And Duster is heavier, wider and has a longer wheelbase than VW—for a better ride.

And finally, Duster still looks and acts like a compact. With easy handling and parking, good gas mileage and low upkeep. And with the money you save on Duster, you can put it toward extras like wheel covers, chrome bumper guards and whitewall tires as shown on the above Duster.

No wonder Chrysler Corporation sells more compacts than anyone else. And no wonder Duster is Chrysler Corporation's best selling compact.

That's something worth thinking about.

The Illinois Department of Public Health is testing a nursing home model, but there isn't a bit of paper-mache, balsa wood or white glue in sight. There is a stack of data-filled books and a mass of computer print-outs.

The department has been awarded a $79,760 grant by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to test a similar "model" created by an independent firm in the eastern U.S. in the late 1960s.

Though initial reports on the model were good, it was filed away and apparently forgotten until recently, when it was dusted off, and appropriate agencies around the nation were asked to consider reevaluating it. Illinois vouches. Specifically, the department's Bureau of Personal and Community Health will test the model's ability to accurately predict costs involved in operating a nursing home.

So far, according to Dr. M. A. Werckle, bureau chief, early tests have indicated the model isn't quite as good as the original preliminary reports claimed. But the department is still hopeful that before the grant period expires next June 30, the model may be shown to be a useful tool in accurately anticipating the cost of properly operating a nursing home.

Illinois has nearly four times as many long-term care facilities as hospitals. A large part of their population is made of patients whose expenses are paid by the taxpayer, through public aid, so the goal of keeping costs good, while keeping costs realistic benefits more people than just the patients and their immediate families.

Expected changes in medical care concepts in the next decade are likely to alter the role of the nursing home, Dr. Werckle says, with the trend apparently being away from long periods of actual hospitalization toward more use of long-term care facilities.

The ability to anticipate patient flow and provide for adequate care without over-staffing—or, in the alternative, understaffing and requiring patients to go without needed services for long periods—will become increasingly important, he said.

If the pilot project shows the model performs reliably, it will be made available to state agencies and the nursing home industry both in Illinois and the nation.

Sewer plan reviewed by Chouteau Board

Walter Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, reiterated his position Monday night that the proposed Four Township Sewer Program is a long way off and that statements by Albert Doerr of South Roxana, a member of the Madison County Board, have been overly optimistic.

Sparks' comments were made during the regular meeting of the Chouteau Township Board Monday in Mitchell. A township resident, Gordon Routh, was on hand to congratulate the Township Board on its recent progress, particularly

In order to make the test, operations of six representative long-term care facilities will be studied, according to Donald B. St. John, project director and manager of the department's Division of Health Facilities. The six will represent urban and rural areas, in different geographical sections of the state, and will include two privately-operated facilities, two operated by public bodies such as county governments, and two affiliated with hospitals.

In each category, there will be one home with less than 50 beds and one with 50 to 150 beds. In testing the model, the computer will be fed pertinent data and will project costs for the six actual operations. The model's projected cost estimates will then be checked against costs as reported by the six.

In acquisition of land for a new township garage and later, town hall on the same site. Several small road and bridge bills were ordered paid by the board.

The board held a special meeting during the weekend in which a plan was considered to provide offices for the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Levee District in the proposed township hall.

Auditor James Greer made a motion that the levee district office be included in the plans but the motion died for lack of a second.

Food stolen at Care center

Burglars forced the window on the lower level of the Madison Day Care Center, Third Street and Washington Avenue in West Madison and made off with a large quantity of meat.

Mrs. Dana McRoberts, director of the center, reported the burglary to police at 8:40 a.m. Monday when she discovered the loss.

Reported taken were 14 pounds of bacon, four dozen eggs, four pounds of butter, box of sausage links, 10 pounds of hamburger, unknown number of Jack Salmon, 10 food platters and one roasting pan.

Repair of Venice-Madison storm line to begin soon

Repairs to the large storm sewer at the south edge of the Granite City Army Depot will begin soon, as bids for the work were opened at the office of the St. Louis District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Apparent low bidder for the project was G. H. Sternberg & Co. of Granite City, with a bid of $130,070. One other firm bid on the work.

The storm sewer pipe was seriously affected by the spring rains and flooding in 1972 and had been twice cleaned by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Engineers found that the sewer pipe had dropped about two feet below grade, and large joint openings were allowing sand to enter and block the pipe. Later rains and flooding in Venice streets aggravated the situation. The sewer provided drainage for the cities of Venice and Madison.

The work is under provisions of Public Law 606, Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, and is assigned to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers working with the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Warning on 2 food products

The Illinois Department of Public Health on Monday warned consumers not to use either of two products that are sold primarily in health food stores as special dietary supplements. The products, Aprikren and Bee-Seventeen, are derived from apricot kernels and contain potentially dangerous levels of hydrogen cyanide, the federal Food and Drug Administration reported.

Dr. Joyce C. Lashof, director of the state health department, explained that, according to reports from the FDA, ingestion of five Aprikren capsules could result in cyanide poisoning, and be fatal to a child; 20 such capsules could be fatal to an adult.

"FDA also estimates that two packets of the Bee-Seventeen product contain enough hydrogen cyanide to cause cyanide poisoning in a small child," Dr. Lashof added.

"FDA reported that the distributor of these products, General Research Laboratories of Van Nuys, Calif., has refused a request to recall the products from the market."

"While FDA will initiate appropriate legal action to halt future interstate shipments," Dr. Lashof said, "complete withdrawal of the products is hampered by two facts—they are sold nationally in thousands of retail outlets, and each outlet usually carries small quantities. In addition, the manufacturer has refused to release distribution records."

"For these reasons," she explained, "we must rely in great part on public action to get these products out of the channels of distribution." She is urging all Illinois residents to stop purchasing and using the two products.

Kiwianians told of U.S. leadership in medicine

Dr. F. B. Dionea, Granite City physician, discussed America's rise to prominence in medicine during the regular meeting of the Granite City Kiwanis Club Monday.

Dr. Dionea reviewed his education, starting in Manila and continuing in this country. He told the 25 Kiwanians and four guests present that he came to America to learn medicine and decided to remain here.

More than half of the staff doctors at St. Elizabeth Hospital are from foreign countries, he noted. The doctor added that many foreign-born physicians do not pass the rigid tests necessary to practice medicine here. Illinois is among the most rigid states in its requirements, he added.

He said America's rise in prominence in medicine is best shown in that years ago American doctors would go to Europe to train and now doctors from Europe and throughout the world are coming here for their medical educations.

Guests attending the meeting, all from the Alton club, were Bill Rogers, Hal Gossling, Charles Hamphill and Forrest Cook.

Business women honor past presidents

Past presidents of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club were honored at a dinner party at the Holy Trinity Hall in Madison. The occasion also marked the 52nd anniversary of the local club. Baskets of autumn blossoms, fruit and Indian corn graced the dinner table. Illumination was provided by green and gold candles, representing the club's colors, which conformed to the remaining table appointments. Ten past presidents were greeted by Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, who presented each with a green and gold rosette corsage.

Mrs. Ruth Millhouser and Mrs. Rebecca Slate, co-chairmen, introduced the honored guests as the past officers were escorted to the head table beneath an archway of long-stemmed gladioli.

Honored guests were Mrs. Winifred Costello, who served as president in 1949; Mrs. Elvira Thurber, 1950-51; Mrs. Ruth Hazel, 1957-58; Mrs. Delores Allen, 1959-60; Mrs. Verne Lengyel, 1961-62; Mrs. Verne Wertheim, 1963-64; Mrs. Helene Bischoff, 1965; Mrs. Mary Watson, 1967-68; Mrs. Evelyn Alford, 1969-70; and Mrs. Pauline Weir, the club's immediate past president.

In a special memorial service honoring past presidents who are deceased, a framed charter was draped beside a tall white candle. As Mrs. Ruth Canner, chairperson, read the names, five long stemmed white roses were placed on a memorial table by Mrs. Sandy Tadlock and Mrs. Nancy Dittich.

The tribute was paid in memory of the late Mrs. Pearl Ryckman, Mrs. Jeanne Reisenmy, Mrs. Blanche Fearling, Mrs. Lottie Scherrer and Miss Merlene Groehong. Entertainment following dinner was furnished by the Noblemen of Almad Shrine Temple, who sang and performed comedy skits.

To observe the 52nd anniversary event and honor all BPW past presidents, the club presented a $500 U.S. Savings Bond to Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children. Mrs. Mary Watson made the presentation to Dean Haeger of the Noblemen group.

Canned goods for the Salvation Army and a $2 gift to the club were brought to the BPW's annual Christmas party, scheduled for last evening at the Granite City Army Installation's Officers Club, Mrs. Marzful, president, announced.

About 150 attended the anniversary dinner, including representatives of the Fairview-Edgemont BPW and the Collinsville BPW clubs. Mrs. Catherine Burton, of Collinsville, first vice-president of BPW Clubs, also was a guest.

Other members serving on the dinner committee were Mesdames Helen Christich, Edith Schwab, Ann Hordeky, Geraldine Wagner, Genevieve Haddis, Maxine Butler, Lillian Naeve and Thelma Ward.

Toys have positive aspects

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County
Home Economics
Adviser

Every year around this time, children make their lists of Christmas wishes. Parents in turn are bombarded with requests for many elaborate and expensive "do-everything" toys that children claim they "really" want.

Many of these wants came through television advertisements directed to children.

According to Lewis A. Engman, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), there are as many as 20 commercials per hour on some television programs aimed at the children's market. Program characters, both live and animated, are used to sell products to children.

The FTC is concerned about the practice of encouraging children to act as surrogate salesmen for manufacturers by directly or indirectly suggesting that they ask their parents to buy a certain toy.

Many parents, too, are concerned, and rightly so. Toys are big business, and American families spend millions of dollars on toys each year.

Many children are dependent on immediate perceptions and aren't able to judge play value of toys. They are highly susceptible to what they see and hear.

Young children may be highly stimulated by a colorful, noise-making, quick-moving toy that they see on television. And the desire to have that toy becomes real and immediate. However many adult purchases also are made on impulse, the much-wanted toy may not really meet the child's play needs or be fun.

Many of the toys children see advertised, ask for and receive, aren't conducive to children's active play. They are simply something to watch. Young children soon get bored with toys that do everything themselves, and parents soon hear their children saying, "I have nothing to play with."

A "fun" toy is one that requires action on the part of the child. Children enjoy making their own sound effects, and providing the sound to make the toys move.

The more things the child can do to and with the toy, the more play possibilities the toy has, and the longer it will be enjoyed.

Children need toys for fun to satisfy the urge to be active and to be doing something.

This Christmas, when selecting toys, remember it isn't so much what the toy can do that's important. It's what and how much the child can do with the toy that makes it a valuable tool in play.

Tentative plans are being made for a summer wedding.

Tea honors den leaders

Den leaders in the Unihav District were honored at a tea given this week in the Martin Luther King Room at the Religious Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville under the leadership of Melvin Gille, a past council president, and members of the Scouters Reserve.

About 75 leaders active in the Cub Scout and Boy Scout programs were accorded special recognition for their work.

Festive decorations in a silver color scheme were used on the tables, where arrangements of Christmas cookies and candies on silver trays were enlivened with live holly and flanked with silver tapers.

An unusual Christmas tree created from copper screen wire and covered with garlands of evergreens and velvet fruits centered the main table. A full size tree was adorned with handmade "Partridges" made of Brazil nuts which were distributed to the guests as special favors.

Jack Valance, council vice-chairman, reviewed the work that women in the scouting movement have mastered and become responsible for handling, noting that their entry into the program should have occurred many years earlier.

Gillie also addressed the group on the topic "The Importance of Scouting." William Monical, council executive director, announced the tea will become an annual event. Next year, he said, a "Den Leader of the Year" award will be presented to an outstanding woman.

Monical introduced Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hogan and son, representing the Illini District; Tom Lee of the Kickapoo District and Mark Venable of Unihav District.

Mrs. Marlene Manogian served as chairman of the event. She was assisted by members of the Scouters Reserve, including Mesdames

Madison Jr. Service to host 'Evening With Santa'

"An Evening With Santa," a project sponsored annually by the Madison Junior Service Club, was planned for 6:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 14, during a meeting at the Firemen's Hall in Madison.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, president, announced that "Corky the Clown" will share the spotlight with Santa Claus at the traditional pre-holiday event to take place this year at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall, 740 Broadway, Venice.

Tickets now are on sale and may be purchased from club members, the president added. For some time members have been working at the Madison Recreation Center making favors to be given the children by Santa at the party.

The club's Christmas party will be held Tuesday at Charlie's Restaurant, it was reported. During the meeting, handmade items were auctioned in a special "hobby auction."

An American flag sent to the organization by Congressman

Melvin Price, D-East St. Louis, was presented to a Cub Scout group sponsored by the club. The flag has flown over the state capitol building in Springfield, Ill., according to a letter that accompanied the gift.

Pack 17 views magic tricks

A program of magic tricks was performed by individual den leaders at a monthly meeting of Cub Pack 17 held in the gymnasium at Marshall School.

Den Two cub scouts raised the colors and Louis Hofling, committee chairman, presided at the meeting.

Feats of magic were performed by Den One, led by Shirley Gann, Den Two and the Webelos Den, directed by Joyce Wilson and Den Three, led by Dawn Livingston.

Hofling announced a Christmas party for Cub Scouts will take place at the school at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 20, and the pack will conduct ceremonies at the Marshall PTA meeting on Dec. 18.

Pack members will offer dish cloths for sale to help defray expenses of acquiring race cards, it was reported. A recent fund raising project will provide fees for pack registrations in March, Mrs. Gann said.

Mrs. Carlene Givens, advancement chairman, presented the Bobcat pin to Darryl Gaines and the Webelos colors to Philip Johnson. The County awarded Manpower grant

A grant of $25,000 to study manpower needs has been awarded Madison County by the U.S. Department of Labor, Dan Churovich, director of the county's present governmental employment program, announced today.

The grant will finance a study of countywide manpower needs, including those of incorporated areas, under a government program that would give the area control of fulfilling the need of workers in government units.

Churovich said the county will hire a manpower planner. Applicants should have a degree in business administration or manpower planning, or both. Interviewing will begin Friday, he said. Information may be obtained from Churovich at 656-9495.

Robbers get $1,625 at Madison housing office

Two armed and masked robbers held up the office of the Madison County Housing Authority, Washington and Market streets, Madison, at 12:10 p.m. Monday, escaping with $1,625 in cash.

Miss Barbara McEneaney, a cashier for the authority, said that she went to lock the door for the employees lunch hour at noon, and was met at the door by two men, both carrying pistols, who forced their way in.

The money taken represented part of the rent paid by persons living in the 164 Garesche and Grenzer Homes apartments. Mrs. Ora Harper, Venice, project manager, said residents normally begin paying rent on the first Monday of the month.

The two robbers took bags of cash from a safe and a tray of money from a cash drawer. The thieves ripped out the telephones, forced the employees into a back room and fled through a rear door.

An unidentified caller to police described the car and gave police the license number of a car in which two men left the area at a high rate of speed at time of the robbery.

The car was stolen at 6:10 a.m. Monday in Alton, a police check revealed. One of the men, both of whom were Negroes, was described as five feet, ten inches tall, slender build, light skin and wearing a ski-mask with red trim. The other was described as six feet tall, medium skin, young and slender and wearing a grey ski-mask.

The square dancing session is free to park district residents. A $5 fee will be charged those who reside outside of the district.

Employees present during the robbery in addition to Mrs. Harper and Miss McEneaney were Mrs. Mary Harvey of Collinsville and Mrs. Sherry Pratt of Bethalto, both officer workers, and Eugene Hegeman of Wood River, an accountant.
